VOL. LXXXVIII—No. 267 CITY OF KINGSTON, N. Y., MONDAY EVENING, AUGUST 31, 1959 PRICE SEVEN CENTS

TWO KILLED SATURDAY—Two persons were killed early Saturday morning when a car operated by Frank Bush, 55, of Stone Ridge, went out of control on Route 213 about two miles east of Route 209 near Stone Ridge, veered across the highway and rolled down an embankment where it overturned, pinning Bush and a passenger Harvey Winchell, 70, of Stone Ridge, beneath the vehicle. Both men died instantly of multiple fractures and internal injuries. At the right are Trooper George Gaine of the Kingston state police and Frank Fatum of Fatum Ambulance of Kingston. (Anner Photo).

May Hear Perry Charge Result Action on Viaduct Due By Council on Tuesday

Action authorizing a new bid by the city to the state for elimination of the Washington Avenue viaduct and Esopus Creek bridge traffic hazards, is due to be taken by the Common Council at its regular Tuesday night session.

Will Quiz Man Caught in Act, On Other Jobs

A Delaware County Man, who was apprehended by state police inside the Hines Garage in Margaretville Saturday as he was engaged in burglarizing the place, will be questioned by Ulster County officials about a series of burglaries committed earlier this year.

David Leroy Miner, 22, of Bloomville, Delaware County, was caught inside the Margaretville garage by State Troopers Howard TenEyck and Edward Sedlaski, as he was allegedly attempting to move a safe into his car.

Collision Injures Five on Modena, Ardonia Highway

Two persons were hospitalized and three others hurt in a collision late Sunday afternoon on Route 44-55 between Ardonia and Modena.

Admitted to Vassar Bros. Hospital, Poughkeepsie, were Brenton S. Mongan, 25, and Thomas Gruner, 13, both of Highland.

Mongan suffered lacerations of the head and an injury to his right arm. Gruner lacerations of the head and body requiring 17 stitches.

Others Are Hurt

Also hurt were John Oliver, Henry Doughton, 30, and William Frasier, 45, all migrant workers on the H. W. Walker farm, Clintondale. They suffered minor injuries and told Highland state police they would see their own physician.

Oliver was arrested for op-

Admits Theft

Troopers said he admitted stealing safes in Otsego and Delhi, and getting over $600 in cash. He attempted cracking jobs in Stamford, Oneonta, Hobart, Delhi and Margaretville, the troopers report, and in one burglary at Hobart, stole the rifle and shotgun found in his auto. At the time of his arrest he was carrying $130 in cash, allegedly taken during the Hines Garage burglary, they said.

The troopers said his method of operation did not vary. In the Hines garage job, when he failed to open the safe he was attempting to remove it to his car when he broke into a store or garage, usually through a window, then unlocked the door, rolled or shoved the safe inside, boosted it into his car. Later, police said, he would pry it open and dump it into a pond or creek.

Police Flush Student From 4-Year Hideout

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—"It was like death. I talked to myself more and more." Chheng Guan Lim said today describing his four-year voluntary imprisonment in the eaves of the First Methodist Church here.

Chheng, flushed out of his hiding place Sunday by police, told incredulous authorities and University of Michigan officials he went into hiding after the Michigan-Navy football game in 1955 to save face after failing in his studies in the university's engineering college.

The 28-year-old Chinese student said he hadn't spoken to anyone during the four years. He picked up scraps of food from the church kitchen following social activities.

Used Match Sticks

Chheng, son of a Singapore school teacher, said he brushed his teeth with burnt match sticks, cut his hair with a pair of shears and trimmed his beard with a set of tweezers.

His strange existence was discovered after private police were hired to check the church building after complaints of prowlers.

Officers entered the building after a couple living in the basement heard noises. They heard a door slam and went to the eaves where Chheng was found.

The student was found doubled up under a catwalk. He was wearing a pair of shorts. Beneath a paper tent were his blankets, an earphone radio and a jar of instant coffee.

Chheng said he decided on the hiding place after the football game and entered it to stay after throwing his clothes and identification papers into the nearby Huron River.

At One Once a Day

"Nobody ever goes up there (the eaves) because there is no reason to go there," he told police and university officials in the Washtenaw County jail.

Jobs Look Similar

There have been several safes taken in the Ulster County area over a period of several months.

The method used by Miner, police bears a marked similarity to several burglaries committed earlier this year in both Ulster and Greene counties. Safes were stolen, later turned up in creeks or meadows with doors pried off.

Miner told the Margaretville troopers he worked alone but police said some of the safes weighed up to, or over 300 pounds, a heavy load for one man.

Had Weapons

At the time Miner was apprehended, Mr. and Mrs. Hines were asleep in an upstairs apartment over the garage. When apprehended Miner was armed with a nine-inch blade knife and had a stolen rifle and shotgun in his car.

Miner was committed to the Delaware county jail on a charge of first degree burglary, to await grand jury action.

Dividend Day Is Tuesday Uptown

Tomorrow, Tuesday, is Dividend Day in many of the uptown stores in Kingston.

One Tuesday of every month has been set aside by the Uptown Merchants Association as a sales promotion day—"a one-day shot or some hot items," as one merchant phrased it.

Today's issue of The Freeman features some advertising offering special bargains for area shoppers on this one-day basis.

Nehru Rules Out Use of Force on Communist Troops

By WATSON SIMS
NEW DELHI (AP) — Prime Minister Nehru today ruled out any immediate use of force against Chinese Communist troops if government charges have occupied Indian territory at two points on the Tibetan frontier.

Nehru rejected a suggestion in parliament that the Indian Air Force bomb a road the Chinese reportedly have built across uninhabited territory in the Ladakh sector of Kashmir State.

"Countries should not go to war without examining other ways to settle such matters," Nehru told parliament in rejecting the bombing suggestion by members of the Praja Socialist Party.

Soviet Threat Is Ahead for Free Nations 20 Years

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Soviet threat to dominate the world requires the free nations to pool money and weapons for a struggle that could last 20 years, a report to the Senate says.

The work of a private research firm, the report called for austerity and belt-tightening among Western nations, plus strong measures to expand their economies and increase military strength.

The report, prepared by the Corporation for Economic and Industrial Research, Inc., was published over the weekend by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

The report urged these military measures:

Quick development of an effective defense against intercontinental missiles before the Soviets achieve one.

Full exploitation of "our vast superiority in electronic processing and computer production."

Expansion of mechanized, powerful forces "to prevent Communist expansion by local conventional warfare."

"These cost heavily," the report said, "but the United States and its allies have a 3-to-1 superiority in economic resources over the Communist bloc."

U.S. programs to date have only been enough to buy limited "term insurance" against Soviet threats, it said, and a 10-to-20-year "endowment policy" is needed to "face the facts of future Soviet power politics."

Wife Held for Manslaughter Stab Wounds Are Fatal To Migrant Farmhand

A 24-year-old migrant farm worker on the William Minard farm, Clintondale, died early Sunday morning after having been stabbed twice by his wife during an argument.

Eli Cooper was stabbed with a pair of garden shears by his wife, Christina Cooper, 26, about 2:30 a. m., it was reported by Sgt. E. E. Winkley of the Highland state police.

Hides in Woods

His wife ran from the cabin followed by Cooper, bleeding profusely. About 100 feet from the cabin he fell dead.

Mrs. Cooper, apparently not realizing her husband was dead, hid in the woods and later went to the home of a neighbor where she called state police.

Sgt. Winkley told The Freeman that Mrs. Cooper's call was received about 6 a. m.

He said both of the stab wounds were in the vicinity of the heart, one of them cutting a blood vessel.

Cooper is survived by his wife and five children—three by Cooper and two by a former marriage.

Hold Two in Jail For Assaulting Saugerties Man

Two Kingston men are being held in Ulster County Jail charged with unlawful entry and second degree assault on a Saugerties tavern owner early Saturday morning.

William G. Bray, 32, who gave his address as the Eichler Hotel, is being held for the grand jury.

Paul J. Koczur, 22 of 43 Abrun Street will have a preliminary hearing Friday at 3 p. m. before Saugerties Police Justice G. Thomas Rea.

Both appeared before Justice Rea Saturday afternoon following apprehension by Detective Howard De Graff and Officer Sheldon O'Rourke of Kingston Police Department, and Trooper Joseph Ventriglia of Kingston state police.

Saugerties police said Patsy Mauro, proprietor of the Imperial House of 49 Partition Street, Saugerties reported he was accosted by two men in his bedroom above the establishment shortly after closing. Mauro told Saugerties police he found Bray hiding under his bed and Koczur attacked him from the rear. By

Youth Is Accused of Assault Upon Officer With Auto Door

Charged with having slammed an automobile door against the head of Officer David Hughes after the latter had issued a traffic summons Sunday afternoon, Harold Richard Quick, 19, of 35 Liberty Street, was booked on a second degree assault count.

City Judge Aaron E. Klein today put the case over to Tuesday night to permit the defendant time to obtain counsel. The summons charged lack of license. Bail was fixed at $250 on the assault count and at $25 on the other.

Police said Quick was on Franklin Street shortly after 4 p. m. Sunday when the summons was issued and the door slammed.

Also due for Tuesday night hearing is John Murray, 19, of 269 Third Avenue, who was charged Aug 26 with interfering with Officer Hughes as he was making an arrest. Henry Rowles, 25, of 64 Broadway, was booked on the same date on a disorderly conduct charge and is due for Tuesday night hearing.

Gets Jail Term

Edwin Houghton, 35, of 79 Broadway, arrested Saturday by Catherina Houghton on a third degree assault charge, was sentenced to 10 days in jail.

Robert Planthab, 21, of 155 Broadway, booked early Sunday for lack of registration certificate, was fined $25 today and his license plates were ordered confiscated. He appeared in court Saturday on a charge dealing with lack of insurance, but that was dismissed when proof was produced.

Stanley Harris, 41, of 79 Hoffman Street, charged with a stop-sign violation, was fined $5.

Hold for Grand Jury

Mrs. Cooper was arrested on a charge of manslaughter first degree. She was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Louis Canino of the town of Lloyd, waived examination and was committed to the Ulster County jail to await action of the grand jury.

The Coopers had been on the farm since late in June.

President Is Cheered In London Exchange Visits Big Topic of Talk

By REILMAN MORIN
LONDON (AP) — Cheered by thousands, President Eisenhower returned to London today from weekend talks with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan that brought broad agreement on the strategy of future cold war negotiations.

Qualified informants outlined results of the conference of the two leaders at Chequers, the Prime Minister's country estate.

They said Eisenhower and Macmillan displayed a resolve to do all they can to bring French President Charles de Gaulle back into full cooperation in the North Atlantic Alliance.

Discuss Exchange Visits

Eisenhower's coming exchange of visits with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev was said to have been the most important single topic covered in the American-British exchanges.

Other subjects covered by the two men—sometimes with Secretary of State Charles A. Herter and Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd sitting in—included:

1. Plans for a new Western approach toward an East-West disarmament program. This approach was said to take into account an American idea that would make a cutoff of nuclear weapon production under tight controls a starting point of the program.

Details Withheld

2. A possible compromise formula on key issues holding up an agreement in the Big Three Geneva conference on banning of nuclear weapons tests. No details were given.

3. The East-West deadlock over the future of Berlin and Germany. Eisenhower was said to have indicated that he will discuss this issue informally with Khrushchev in Washington next month.

4. U.S.-British defense matters and ways of militarily strengthening the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Again no details were given.

Consider Living Standards

5. Eisenhower's ideas for a big new effort to help raise living standards in the have-not nations of the world. Britain already is (Continued on Page 8, Col. 4)

Man Taken in Gun Battle Is Called Arsonist-Burglar

NEW YORK (AP)—Police captured a man in a blazing gun battle near the St. George ferry terminal on Staten Island today and claimed he is the phantom arsonist-burglar who has terrorized the island for months.

Eighteen shots were fired, but no one was seriously injured. The gunman and a policeman were both grazed slightly.

Police Lt. Thomas O'Connor said the prisoner, Albert Bennett, 31, of Manhattan, admitted several of the wave of 18 arson-burglaries that have occurred on Staten Island in the past year.

Police said Bennett, an elevator operator, was captured after attempting to set a fire in a Staten Island home late last night.

In Bennett's satchel police said they found several small items stolen in the arson-burglaries.

The pattern in all the arson jobs was the same. The burglar entered while the families were away. He took small amounts of cash and such items as typewriters, small radios and children's books. He messed up the house, set piles of clothing, rags and chairs afire and fled. Homes ranging in value from $18,000 to $35,000 were destroyed in three-quarters of the 18 fires.

Police said Bennett broke into the Westerleigh home of Harold Vreeland Sunday night while he and his wife and two children were at a lake. Vreeland returned alone. As he turned on the kitchen lights, he noticed that things had been tossed around, and he smelled an inflammable cleaning fluid.

Vreeland, who knew of the series of arson-burglaries, telephoned police. The housebreaker meanwhile had fled out a rear window without having a chance to set the house afire. He was spotted by a neighbor as he left the house, and was followed.

Tire Blows on Convertible, 5 Hurlled Out Along Thruway; End in Hospitals

Five persons were injured Saturday afternoon on the New York State Thruway about six miles south of the Kingston interchange when a 1953 convertible blew out a tire and overturned.

Taken to Kingston and Benedictine Hospitals were:

Mrs. Irene Rogers, 22, Astoria, L. I., broken left shoulder and abrasion of the back.

Victor Rogers, 15, same address, torn muscle in his right arm.

Mrs. Loreta MacDonald, 50, New York City, back and neck injuries and abrasions.

Edward MacDonald, 48, New York City, broken collar bone and two broken ribs.

Richard Rogers, 23, Astoria, L. I., injuries not listed.

Trooper J. G. Patterson of the Kingston station, Thruway police, reported that the car, operated by Richard Rogers, was proceeding south in the passing lane when the right rear tire blew out. The driver lost control of the car, which went off the easterly side of the Thruway and turned over in the center mail.

All five occupants of the open car were thrown out. Time of the mishap was 2:15 p. m.

Railroaders Return To Handling Freight

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — Freight handling at the New York Central yards here was returned to normal today after a one-day stay-away from work by 60 conductors and brakemen.

Forty members of the day shift failed to report to work Friday and the night crew of 20 men also did not arrive for work that night. The group was ordered to return to their jobs by union officials Sunday after Judge Harold P. Burke of U. S. District Court issued an injunction against the work stoppage. The yardmen are members of Local 681, Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

No reason was given for the walkout, but union and railroad officials were scheduled to conduct a meeting to discuss the walkout. No meeting date was set.

The American Medical Assn. cites apathy as one of the major causes of inadequate diets.

End of Era for Railroading

Passenger Train Service Likely To Vanish From State Entirely

(Editors: This is the first in a series of five stories about the fate that has befallen New York State's railroads. The Associated Press, in a membership enterprise project, tells the story of the rise, decline and future of an industrial giant, an important segment of Americana. The first article depicts the end of an era.)

By ROBERT T. GRAY
ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The traditional passenger-railroad service that helped build the Empire State is disintegrating rapidly and there is a growing belief it will vanish entirely.

Large areas of the state now are without any passenger connections. In others, service has been cut sharply and railroads plead for government permission to drop still more trains.

A significant demand continues on commuter lines serving New York City but these are more a mass-transit operation than passenger railroading in the usual sense.

Little Mourning
In an extensive Associated Press survey of passenger railroad service throughout New York State, these were two of the most widely held views:

1. Passenger service between state points eventually will disappear. "Children coming into the world a few years hence may not know what a passenger train looks like," said an Elmira man. 2. There is little general mourning over the demise of the passenger train. "Passenger service was cut because no one was using the train," observed a Waterloo resident.

As passenger operations fade into railroad history, the lines are overhauling and modernizing freight operations, long their breadwinner.

Stations Not Needed
Freight services are being centralized. The railroads no longer need the many stations that once served nearly every community, no matter how small or remote.

Thus, many communities that came into existence only because of the railroads are losing all contact with them, except, perhaps, for the raucous sound of a diesel horn in the night.

The New York Central, giant of the state's railroads, now has 113 passenger stations, compared with 235 in 1934. It has lopped off 147 freight stations from the 725 operating 25 years ago.

The Erie and Lackawanna railroads plan a merger that will enable them to share facilities and save costs. Many trains will be dropped and stations closed.

Others in Similar State
Other lines are taking similar money-saving steps.

The Ontario and Western disappeared into a financial bog, despite drastic action to save it.

The railroads conduct what often seems to be a running battle with state and federal agencies for permission to reduce service.

Higher fares are blamed for driving away business. This leads to new pleas for permission to drop trains on the ground there is no demand for them.

In 1929, nearly 71 per cent of persons traveling between cities on commercial carriers went by train. Fifteen per cent took the bus. Only one-tenth of one per cent looked to airplanes as a means of transportation.

Others Make Inroads
In the space of nearly 30 years, the railroad's share of that business had been cut more than half — to 34.9 per cent. The bus lines had leaped to 31.1 per cent and the airlines had carried 31.4 per cent.

In the same period, the number of private automobiles in New York State rose from 1,875,872 to 3,995,574—each a potential competitor for a passenger train.

These statistics were translated across the state and across the years into historical changes in many communities.

Tours of 20 persons still alight from trains at Niagara Falls. But ticket-agent George Cannon remembers excursion trains that arrived in 10 sections and thousands of sightseers poured from them.

At Cortland, there were no tests at hearings on railroad plans to end passenger service.

Probably, one resident commented, nobody could actually claim he ever used the trains.

Governor's Milk Committee Meets

The Governor's special committee on milk licensing will begin its assignment by seeking the views of experts and all interested parties, it was announced today.

The chairman, Everett Case, president of Colgate University, said the procedure had been developed Thursday at the committee's organizational gathering here. There was full attendance. Other members are: John D. Calhoun, New York City attorney; Frederick W. Crumb, president, State University Teachers College, Potsdam; William I. Myers, dean emeritus, State University College of Agriculture, Cornell University; and John B. Johnson, editor and publisher, Watertown Daily Times.

"We intend to invite expert testimony on the subject of the state's milk licensing law," Mr. Case said. "There will also be an opportunity for all interested parties to place their views before the committee. Announcement as to the means of doing this will be made later."

Mr. Case said that Thursday's session had been attended by officials of the New York State Department of Agriculture and Markets and Dr. O. J. Blanford, market administrator of the New York-New Jersey milk marketing area, by invitation. They had been asked for a "background briefing," he said.

The committee's next meeting will be September 9 in Syracuse. Governor Rockefeller appointed the committee late in July to examine New York's milk licensing regulations under the Agriculture and Markets law and to consider the need for legislative revisions.

Runs as Snake Hangs On OWASSO, Okla. (AP) — A 27-year-old farm laborer ran a quarter of a mile Sunday with a water moccasin biting into his leg.

Jesse Crippen said the poisonous snake struck him while he was fishing at a farm pond. Unable to get it loose, he ran to the home of relatives who pulled it off.

He was reported in good condition at a Tulsa Hospital.

Clark Is Ready To Override Veto Of Works Bill

By JOHN KOENIG JR.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Joseph S. Clark (D-Pa.) says he is ready to override President Eisenhower's veto of the public works bill. But his colleague, Sen. Hugh Scott (R-Pa.) has not yet made up his mind.

Scott told a newsman he wants to talk to Pennsylvania Republicans in the House before deciding what he will do.

He said that, on the basis of what persons he already talked to have said, he would "venture to guess that the veto will be sustained."

"Some Republican who voted for the bill won't go against the President now that he has vetoed it," Scott said.

At any rate, he added, first action on a vote to override the veto would come in the House and he wants to see what happens there.

Clark, meanwhile, said the Pennsylvania projects included in the $1,206,000,000 omnibus flood control and navigation bill "certainly are justified."

"I will vote to override the veto and I hope that Congress goes along," he said.

The prime Pennsylvania project in the bill is the controversial Kinzua, Warren County, dam. Although the President's budget asked no new sum for this project for the fiscal year ending next July 31, Congress included an additional $1,400,000 to get the project rolling.

Work had been postponed for some months pending settlement of litigation initiated by the Seneca Indians of New York State to hold up construction of the dam and reservoir which would inundate a portion of their reservation.

It was because of this litigation that the President asked for no new funds this year. Another $1,400,000 remained unused from two previous appropriations.

Purring Cat Leads To End of Crime Plan

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Police say a purring cat brought an end to Richard Savoy's aspirations to a life of crime.

They said Savoy climbed into James A. Bentley's car in Los Angeles Saturday night and forced him at knifepoint to drive 55 miles to Oxnard and back. Bentley, 47, a Los Angeles engineer, said Savoy told him he was holding him hostage until he could get a deputy sheriff's gun with which to start a life of crime.

Also kidnapped was Bentley's cat, Goldie. En route back from Oxnard Goldie crawled into Savoy's lap and began to purr—and then went to sleep. Savoy relaxed. Soon he went to sleep, too. Bentley spotted a police patrol car and flagged down the officers. They booked the 31-year-old Savoy on suspicion of kidnapping.

Another Great Day for America —and Oil Was There!

For 100 years—since 1859—oil's people and products have been responsible for milestone after milestone in America's march into the future.

From the hushed doubts of a Long Island airfield to the rousing cheers of a Paris throng, Lindbergh flew into history. Oil was there... oil helped make it possible!

Oil's first hundred years have brought undreamed-of changes in the lives of all of us. Not only in efficient, economical fuels and lubricants but in clothing, food, medicine, housing, and in many other ways we reap the benefits of a century of oil progress.

At the root of this progress lies the tradition of freedom fostered and cherished in our country. Working in this same freedom, oil's men and women will bring forth more Great Days for America. No one knows all the wonders that lie ahead for America. But we know this—progress lies ahead... and oil will be there!

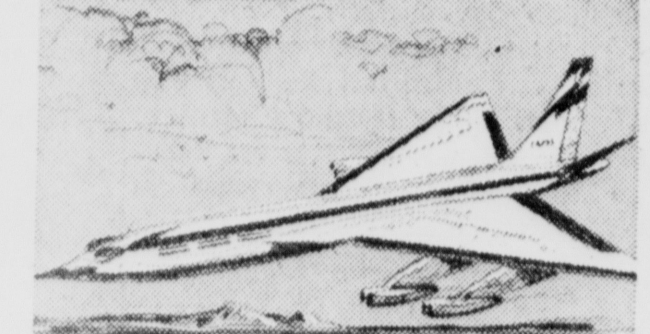

We, at The Newcombe Oil Co., like to feel that our company has played a small role in this development. YOUNG IDEAS

A good house painter is a busy fellow these days most anywhere. Often he needs a helper.

We know a skilled, conscientious painter who took on a boy of around 18. The boy seemed willing enough to learn, and he soon was drawing $1.50 an hour, pretty fair country wages for a beginner.

Not too long afterward, however, the painter noticed that his boy was doing a pretty careless job. He was forgetting to paint whole sides of radiators, to finish off trim, and so on. The man found he was spending hours tracking after his apprentice, redoing the unfinished work.

Listening to the painter's complaints, the boy was unmoved. He didn't say he would try to do better. He said: "I won't be able to work for you any more unless I get $2.00 an hour."

That, needless to say, was the end of the boy's job.

But the point here is that he is just one of countless youngsters, entering the labor market either temporarily or permanently, who think the world owes them a good wage whether they work well or not.

Employers the nation over can tell you stories of young applicants and workers who make astonishing demands in the way of salary and benefits, without offering convincing evidence of either ability or the willingness to work hard and learn.

If the demands are not met, they look elsewhere, with a presumptive arrogance that would ill befit them even if they were loaded with talent.

In this age we get an awful lot of this business of the young demanding things, from their parents, their friends, their schools, their employers, without feeling it necessary to offer much in return.

This is not the place to argue how the blame for this circumstance should be distributed. It is the place to say a society is in trouble when any fair proportion of its young people imagines the world owes them a living and a good time.

From parents on down the scale, it's time to tell them that they owe something to society, too. On this tough old crust, you earn your way, one way or another, or in the end you flounder and go under.

INDEFENSIBLE WEEKENDS

The wining and dining of prospective customers by those who desire their custom is a common American business practice. In many cases the wining and dining is extrapolated until it involves expensive gifts, and luxurious weekends, and all manner of inducements to sign contracts.

Rep. F. Hebert's House armed services investigating committee has disclosed that the wining and dining technique, even to the extent of weekend parties in the Bahamas, has been applied to Pentagon officers by defense contractors. Committee members do not consider it either wise or proper for officers of the armed services to partake of such lavish hospitality extended by companies that want to do more business with Uncle Sam. And neither do we.

The Air Force appears to have seen the error of its ways. There has been no acknowledgment that any officer has been unduly influenced by such entertainment, but the Air Force did tell the Hebert committee that in the future officers would not be allowed to attend the weekend shindigs. Philip B. Taylor, assistant secretary of the Air Force, was quoted as saying, "It just doesn't look good." Again, we agree.

Whether the Hebert committee will be able to come up with firm proof of influence on generals or admirals is almost beside the point. Perhaps there has not been any such exercise of effective influence, and if there had been it would be hard to pin down. The point is that no in government, whether military or civilian, should get into situations which lay him open to

'These Days'

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY
A SOUND POSITION

More and more letters, advertisements, resolutions come in the mail on the subject of the Khrushchev visit. Because a long lapse of time intervened between the announcement of Khrushchev's coming and the actual date of his arrival, many of those who hate Communism or Russia or Khrushchev have time to think about his visit and perhaps to organize to oppose it. Others, whose emotions are not so defined, are giving the visit a second thought.

It seems to me that the Executive Council of the AFL-CIO, meeting at Unity House on August 21, came up with a resolution which makes sense and is worded with propriety.

The introductory paragraphs state the only position that an American can rightly take. The President invited Khrushchev as a state guest. That is the President's authority and responsibility. The President will entertain him and provide him with an itinerary and send Henry Cabot Lodge along as a guide. Those Americans who do not like it can refrain from attending any entertainment for Khrushchev. They need not cheer; they need not hiss. They can stay at home. The introductory paragraphs read:

"President Eisenhower has invited Nikita Khrushchev, the head of the Soviet Union, to visit the United States in the near future.

It is not for the AFL-CIO Executive Council to approve or disapprove an invitation extended by our President to the head of another government. We do not, therefore, have any comment to make on the wisdom of the President's invitation. At the same time, we must all face the situation realistically."

However, the fact that one is polite and shows ordinary decent manners does not require him to accept the man or his ideals. The AFL-CIO resolution states:

"The Soviet regime continues to be a totalitarian dictatorship. It is dedicated to aggression and world domination. It has destroyed all democratic rights and liberties in its own country. It is now seeking to subvert and destroy the rights and liberties which we Americans cherish dearly in our country."

"There is not a shred of evidence to show that the Kremlin rulers have changed the nature or aims of their regime or even slackened their drive to conquer the world and remold it on the pattern of Soviet tyranny."

This is absolutely correct and the AFL-CIO is to be praised for hitting the nail on the head. Communism is an abhorrent idea to most Americans and the Russian political and economic system finds no favor in American eyes. Congress understands this and wants to adjourn before Khrushchev arrives so that the people back home will not be too critical of those who entertained him.

The AFL-CIO wonders, in effect, why we do not invite Franco:

"For example, the American labor movement has always firmly opposed U. S. recognition of the Franco dictatorship. But our Government has recognized and has even given economic aid to this dictatorship. Such governmental actions do not mean that the AFL-CIO should welcome Franco to our shores in the event our Government should ever invite him to visit the United States."

Of course, no President of the United States ever invited Hitler to come to this country as a guest of the state. Historically, it will be difficult to make a distinction between Khrushchev and Hitler.

However, while Khrushchev is the guest of this nation, he should be shown formal and official hospitality. That is the limit of our obligation. It will not be necessary to look at him out of curiosity.

The AFL-CIO resolution clearly states a citizen's obligation:

"By the same token the President's invitation to Mr. Khrushchev does not mean that the AFL-CIO should participate in honoring this head of a foreign government which runs a vast network of forced labor camps and which ordered the murder of thousands of Hungarians fighting for their national independence and freedom."

No one can question the propriety of this point of view. He comes. The government shows him hospitality. He is permitted to see what he wants to see. He goes home. There are no onward incidents. No one is unduly excited.

If he wants to see a show or a fight or a baseball game—sure, why not? Let him see how we live. Let him see anything—it makes no difference anymore. His spies have already seen everything and have duly reported.

Canker Sores, or Blisters, Are Still Troublesome And Dangerous

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

In spite of the great advances in the understanding of many human disorders and the great strides which have been made in treatment, there are still many which remain troublesome or dangerous.

Q—Please discuss aphthous stomatitis.—Mrs. C. S.

A—Many readers will be more familiar with this disorder under the name, canker sores. These are sort of blisters appearing inside the mouth. Ordinarily these blisters rupture and leave a small ulcer which may be quite uncomfortable before healing. Occasionally, a person has more or less constant or recurrent trouble which gives them much distress.

The cause is not known, though there is some suspicion that a virus may be at fault. Many treatments have been attempted and some of them appear to bring temporary relief. But unfortunately, no single method can be relied on and at present some victims of this condition must simply learn to live with it.

Q—I am confused about the different kinds of eye doctors, what they do and what the different names for them really mean.—W. C.

A—An ophthalmologist or oculist is a physician holding the M.D. degree, who specializes in the care of the eye and related structures. Ophthalmology is a specialized branch of medicine, the practitioners of which diagnose and treat diseases of the eye. An optician is a skilled technician who supplies and fits glasses when prescribed by a physician. His training includes the making of the glasses and their adaptation to the individual patient in proper relation to the eyes and face.

An optometrist has had certain training which has permitted him to meet certain legal and educational requirements and is licensed by the state in which he practices for certain specific purposes. He is not a physician, but is trained to measure the focus of the eyes for glasses and may supply glasses on his own prescription as well as that of a physician. However, he is not legally permitted to diagnose diseases of the eye or to use drugs.

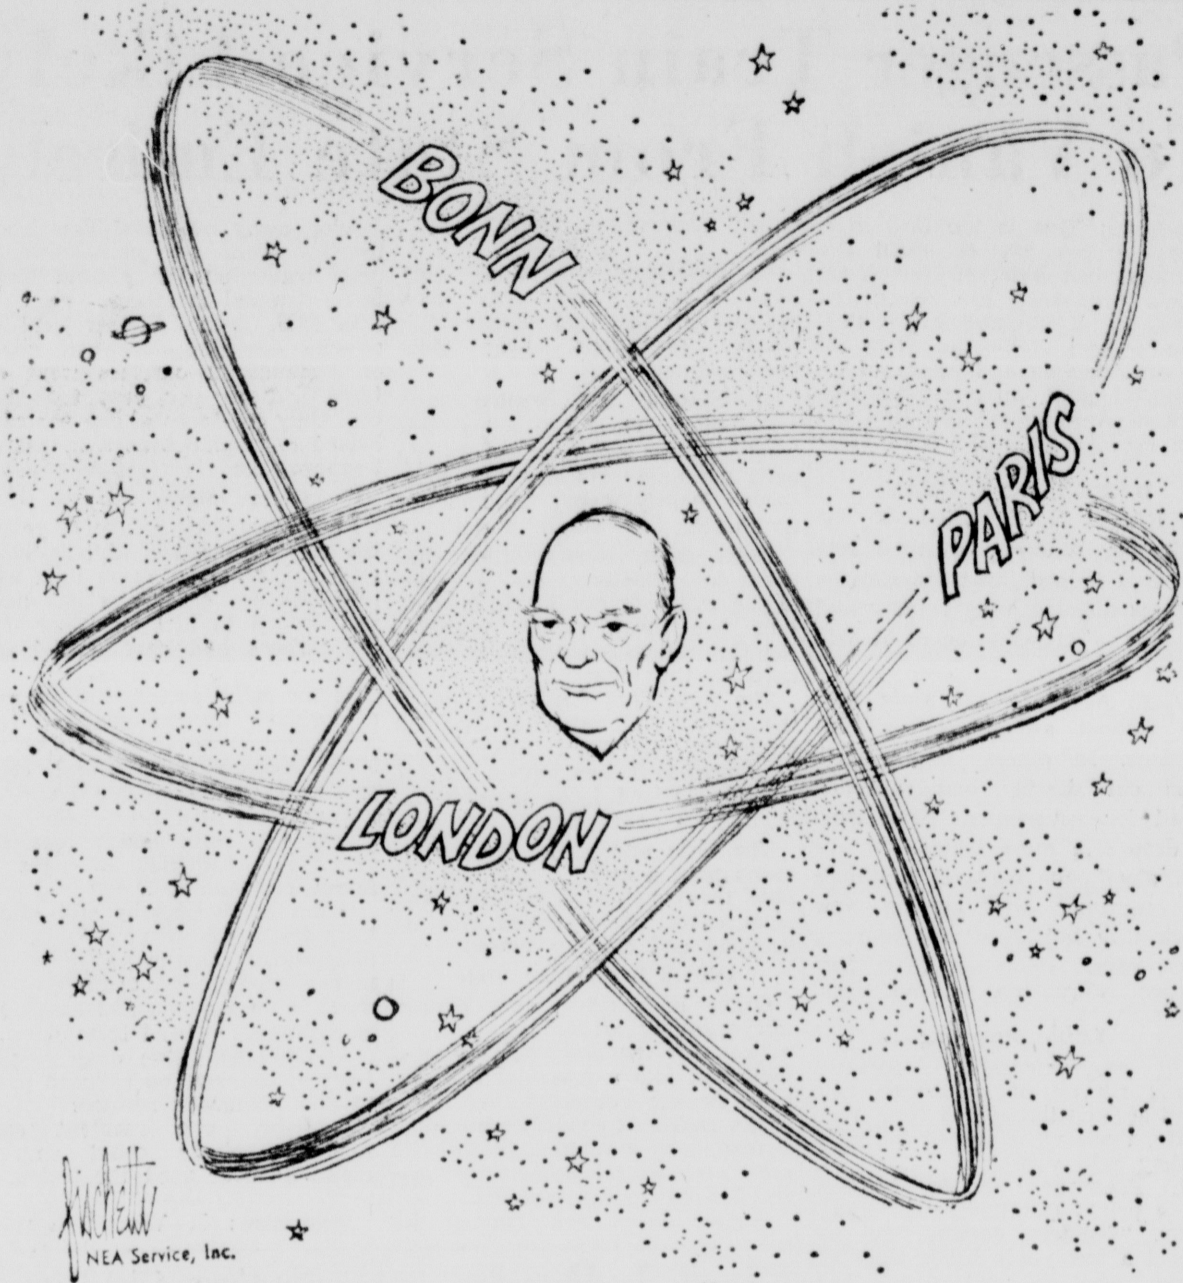

Q—We have a 9-month-old dog. She likes soapuds and eats them. Will this harm our dog?—Mrs. M. S.

A—Possibly. This seems to be an example of pica in a dog. I have discussed this in human beings when it involves a desire to eat peculiar substances such as starch, plaster, and the like. Dr. Jordan is unable to answer questions directly. In this column he answers the most interesting and most frequently asked.

suspicion of this kind. Contracts paid for with public funds should be let on the basis

Washington News

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) —

That fish fry put on in the Senate dining room by freshman Sen. Gale William McGee (D-Wyo.) has started such an uproar among fishermen and conservationists that fuller explanations have been demanded. The charge is that the senator violated a lot of game laws.

What happened was that 110 cutthroat trout from Yellowstone Lake were shipped to Senator McGee in the capital. He got up on the Senate floor and made a speech about them, inviting his colleagues to visit the Senate dining room for a lunch of "all the trout they could eat."

When Sen. Norris Cotton (R-N.H.) asked, "do these fish have bones?" Senator McGee replied: "These are trout, sir, they are not fish." Later he explained that out where he comes from, they throw away bass, crappies, etc.

Then Senator and Mrs. McGee went into the Senate restaurant kitchen and supervised the rolling of the trout in peppered cornmeal and their frying in vegetable oil.

Senator McGee was later photographed eating a whole trout in his fingers, like corn on the cob.

BUT THE BONES — YES, THEY HAD 'EM — HAD hardly been thrown away when fish and wildlife conservationists began to be heard from. How could a senator violate fish and game laws like this and get away with it?

Didn't he know that "the limit of catch per day by each person fishing, and the limit of fish in possession at any one time by any person shall be 10 pounds of fish (dressed weight with heads and tails intact) plus one fish, not to exceed a total of three fish?" This is quoted from the 1959 Yellowstone National Park Fishing Regulation.

Other people from Wyoming sent in copies of their state fish game regulations on shipping fish from the state. They specify that "no more than one day's possession limit" (three game fish from Yellowstone Lake) may be shipped at any one time, and shipment shall not be made more frequently than once in any seven day period."

Finally, there is a federal law (PL 258-80) which makes it an offense for anyone to transport from one state to another, "any fish taken or in possession in violation of the laws of the state they are taken from or into."

WHEN ALL THIS ARRAY OF LAW AND REGULATIONS was called to Senator McGee's attention, he had this explanation.

The Wyoming state law didn't apply because the fish — the trout, that is—were caught in Yellowstone Lake, which is under federal jurisdiction, and shipped from there. No license is needed to fish in the park.

The trout were caught, says Senator McGee, by 40 of his friends who got up a fishing party. It was organized by Bill Clark, who lives just outside the east entrance to the park. They all went in on the same day and hooked two or three apiece.

Anyone can do this on a Sunday afternoon, says Senator McGee.

Bond Interest, Labor Reform Called Tests for Congress

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—In a few days there will be several important tests which will tell the American people whether the Democratic party majority in Congress elected last autumn has proved responsible or irresponsible.

First, a bill calling for more than $1 billion in public works projects which are not provided for in the President's budget, but which selfish interests in various Congressional districts have promoted, will be up for decision as to whether President Eisenhower's veto shall be sustained or overridden.

Second, the labor-reform bill, which the nation demands and which was passed overwhelmingly by the House of Representatives, has run into a deadlock in the joint conference committee of both houses. Now the Senate must vote whether to follow or ignore the public sentiment that favors an end to racketeering and the "blackmail" picketing that injures innocent third parties.

Third, the House leadership of the Democratic party has bottled up a bill that calls for higher interest rates on government bonds. The issue has not been permitted to be voted on in clear-cut fashion by the Democratic leaders of the House. Failure to act could mean a crisis for the dollar and produce more inflation.

The best exposition of the case for the bill that would give the Treasury power to go beyond the present limit of 4 1/2 per cent on bonds that mature after five years has been given by Sen. Harry Byrd of Virginia, Democrat, who is chairman of the Senate Finance Committee. He says:

"The distinguished Speaker of the House of Representatives, my good friend, Mr. Sam Rayburn, is quoted in the newspapers as saying that the House will not consider Federal interest rate ceiling legislation at this session, as requested by the President, because said Mr. Rayburn 'there is not the slightest chance the Senate will do anything this year.'

House Alibi
"It seems to me to be somewhat inconsistent for the house to alibi itself around this very important matter when it has allowed the Senate no opportunity to act. Under the constitution and custom the House originates legislation relating to taxation, debt, interest, etc. As the House, after weeks of consideration, has passed no interest rate bill the Senate has had no opportunity to act."

"As chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, I want to say to the distinguished Speaker that should the House pass such

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

COPENHAGEN — In a very short time I have pinned down the fact that the West Europeans have been wilfully misinformed about the Supreme Court's attempt to impose compulsory association on Americans who refuse to associate with certain others and about American "culture."

Press associations and staff correspondents of European papers stationed in the states have adopted the Communist term "integration" which most of the American press fell for early in the trouble. These "agencies" as they are called have drenched Europe with a stupefying fraud which has done the reputation of the United States some harm.

These people, who have not the issue which is captioned as "Little Rock" is simply a vicious hatred of Negroes in the mean, black hearts of a tiny minority of illiterate southern "crackers." Our "culture" is a monopoly of a few authors of dirty books and plays. "Tobacco Road" is the prime example of the morals of the American people and our musical taste consists of a pessimistic, unmelodious air with a doggerel lyric, entitled "It Ain't Necessarily So."

The beautiful folk songs of Stephen Foster, the enchanting sweetness of "Silver Linings" which conjures the memory of the golden Marilyn Miller, the fine, folkish fiction which Damon Runyon wrote about the real West before he threw himself to the dogs as a willing denizen of the prohibition underworld are unknown to the shallow boozing gossips, whose good opinion we have been urged to cultivate even at the sacrifice of liberties bequeathed to us in the Constitution. Not many of this element have studied or even read the Constitution but we can't complain because most of our own people think freedom of religion means that nobody has a right to express a belief that some or all religions are absurd or evil. On the contrary freedom of religion does include that right.

We haven't taken the trouble to learn how the carpetbag amendments were put over on the South by hateful northern sadists without the slightest interest in bewildered Negroes just out of slavery. We have doggedly closed our minds to the fact that Earl Warren is a Latter-day carpetbagger who pulled two pro-Communist essays out of his book shelves and made them the law of our land in his degree of compulsory association. This stuff new was as good as even submitted to any court anywhere. But ultimately it caused American soldiers to be sent into the streets of a decent American city in the legal status of thuggish gunmen to cow good citizens without a declaration of martial law or pretense of violent emergency. Any Little Rock citizen who was ordered off the street at gunpoint in those days had the legal right to get his shot gun and blow the soldier's head off and let Ike take the consequences.

But if we ourselves are too lazy and too cowardly to maintain these facts, it stands to reason that Europeans can't be equipped to understand. The English read mawkishness filed by their own hysterical fakers, expressing shrewish personal emotion and they are delighted with the right to get his shot gun and blow the soldier's head off and let Ike take the consequences. The European concept of "America" and Americans is about as valid as the old American picture of the silly-silly Englishman roaming the earth with a bath sponge the size of a pumpkin. It is impossible to correct caricatures which are entertained with lascivious joy by most West European peoples. Assuming that it matters, as I, myself, do not, we ought to blame ourselves for letting the American press get away with this in our midst. The fraudulent interpretation of Warren's carpetbag decree never argued in court has gone unchallenged at home. Europeans naturally think this is the truth.

The silly veneration of Carl Sandburg as a great American poet when not one American in a thousand could quote impromptu a single line of anything he ever wrote was thrown into shameful prominence the week when he was shaking his property bang in Moscow and Edgar Guest lay dead in Detroit. Guest was an American poet who observed the difficult amenities of rhyme and meter, and, for better or worse, was a thousand times more respected minstrel of the true American song. He and Riley, Field and Longfellow, George Cohan and Edna Ferber, before she became a forbidding female with a message, spoke the tongue of our country.

I told a supercilious intellectual here the other night that I had never found a rural tobacco road in all my travels but could point him to many such squalid if ornate hovels on Park Avenue and plenty more in London, Paris and Rome. I think the point drew a little pink of blood.

(Copyright, 1959, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Gee, since the park authorities have stopped the taking out of fish eggs. The lake is now heavily stocked.

THERE WERE 110 TROUT IN THE SHIPMENT received by Senator McGee. They were pretty uniform in size, measuring 16 to 18 inches all weighing a pound and a half each, with a few tipping the scales at two pounds.

Senator McGee considers it pretty good publicity for Wyoming and Yellowstone National Park. It worked out much better, anyway, than the 30 young Ki-Ann Indians he made an offer speech about in the Senate on the same day. They came to Washington to do a rain dance. They performed it on Capital Plaza, complete with bull snakes in their mouths.

But they didn't produce a drop of water in what has been one of Washington's hottest, driest, but not dullest spells.

NEWSMAP

POWDER KEG IN LAOS—Newsmap, above, profiles the small southeast Asian kingdom of Laos, which Communist guerrilla warfare threatens to turn into another Korea. The United States, warned by the Laotian government that it faces collapse, has decided to send special military equipment to help defeat Communist-led rebel forces. For 1,000 years a victim of aggression from one or another of its neighbors, Laos won independence in 1954 at the end of the Indochinese War. A year ago, an anti-Red government came to power. Crackdowns on the Communists touched off recent revolt in the primitive country's northern provinces, which Laos claims is being masterminded by Communist North Viet Nam.

Minnesota Senator Opposes New York Fallout Shelters

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) today opposed a New York plan for construction of atomic bomb fallout shelters.

He urged instead a federal program of direct or matching assistance to states and communities to build "realistic protection against radioactive fallout."

In a speech prepared for Senate delivery Humphrey said:

"Certainly the average American can hardly be expected to take a voluntary shelter program seriously when the federal government does not itself require that its own public buildings . . . be equipped with shelters."

The full resources of the government from the White House down must be marshalled to provide fallout protection, he said.

The governor's conference early this month urged immediate action on a nationwide fallout shelter program based on a plan originated in New York.

A group of advisors to Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller had suggested mandatory construction of shelters by citizens and stockpiling of emergency supplies to enable families to exist during and after a nuclear attack. Humphrey did not say how much money would be needed to provide federal grants for shelter construction but stated that 50 million dollars would be nothing more than a gesture.

Two Sides Far Apart In Flint Glass Strike

PITTSBURGH (AP)—With a strike deadline set for midnight tonight, negotiators for the American Flint Glass Workers and the glass container manufacturers industry still were far from agreement.

Federal Mediator William Rose said he hoped to keep negotiators for the union and industry at the bargaining table most of the day. A Sunday meeting produced no encouraging developments, he said.

The union is seeking a new contract for 2,000 moldmakers who work in 88 plants and 26 glass container manufacturing firms.

Rose said there is disagreement over pay rates and company insistence on submitting grievance issues to binding arbitration. The workers now earn an average of $2.80 an hour.

A. J. Martin, chief industry negotiator, said the 26 firms will attempt to operate their plants even if the moldmakers walk out.

Martin said there are 36,000 other production workers in that plants who are members of the Glass Bottle Blowers Assn. That union is not involved in the negotiations.

Factory Workers Wages Increase

NEW YORK (AP)—The average hourly earnings of factory production workers in the metropolitan area hit an all-time high in July.

But a shorter work week, plus a sharp rise in consumer prices, more than offset the increase.

The U. S. Department of Labor reported yesterday that the average hourly wage rose to $2.26. The net spendable weekly earnings in July averaged $79.48 for a worker with three dependents and

The rise in prices, however, resulted in a decline of 0.7 per cent in the buying power of the average factory worker.

What to Do About Neighbor With Raggle-Taggle Lawn

A homemaker wants to know: "What can I do to get our next door neighbors to keep their lawn mowed?"

"This one neglected yard detracts from every house in sight. And it's worse for us because we live right next door and have to look at it. Can't we do anything?"

Nothing that I know of. If you mention it to your neighbor you'll make an enemy—and having an enemy next door could be a lot more unpleasant than unkept grass.

If you belong to a garden club you might ask your next door neighbor if she would like to join. If you can get her to just a few meetings she might get interested in her yard.

If that doesn't seem practical, they why not plant a hedge of high-growing shrubs to cut off the unsightly view?

That in itself ought to be a gentle hint that you are tired of looking at tall grass and weeds. In the meantime don't fret too much.

Families who buy homes and then don't bother to keep them up, are very often "movers" who go from one neighborhood to another. So you may be rid of your problem sooner than you think.

Yours isn't an uncommon plight. Furthermore, it really isn't the most serious problem a neighborhood can have. (All right reserved, NEA Service, Inc.)

854th Engineers End First Week Summer Training

The 854th Engineer Battalion (HV Cons), Mid-Hudson Valley Army Reserve unit with headquarters in Kingston completed its first of two weeks summer training maneuvers at Camp Drum this weekend.

The engineer battalion is a heavy construction unit actively engaged in practical work projects on the post which consists of replacing a class 60 bridge with a box culvert, the leveling of a roadway that requires the removal of over 6,000 yards of earth as well as necessary grading and finishing.

General engineer training in the operation of all types of heavy construction equipment, the construction of floating and Bailey bridges, and the use of explosives and demolitions are also being given during this period.

The battalion has 350 officers and men and is one of the largest active reserve units in the 1st Army area. Lt. Col. Carl Hedman is commander of the battalion with companies located in Monticello, Poughkeepsie, Newburgh and Kingston. The local unit is commanded by William C. Wade of Saugerties.

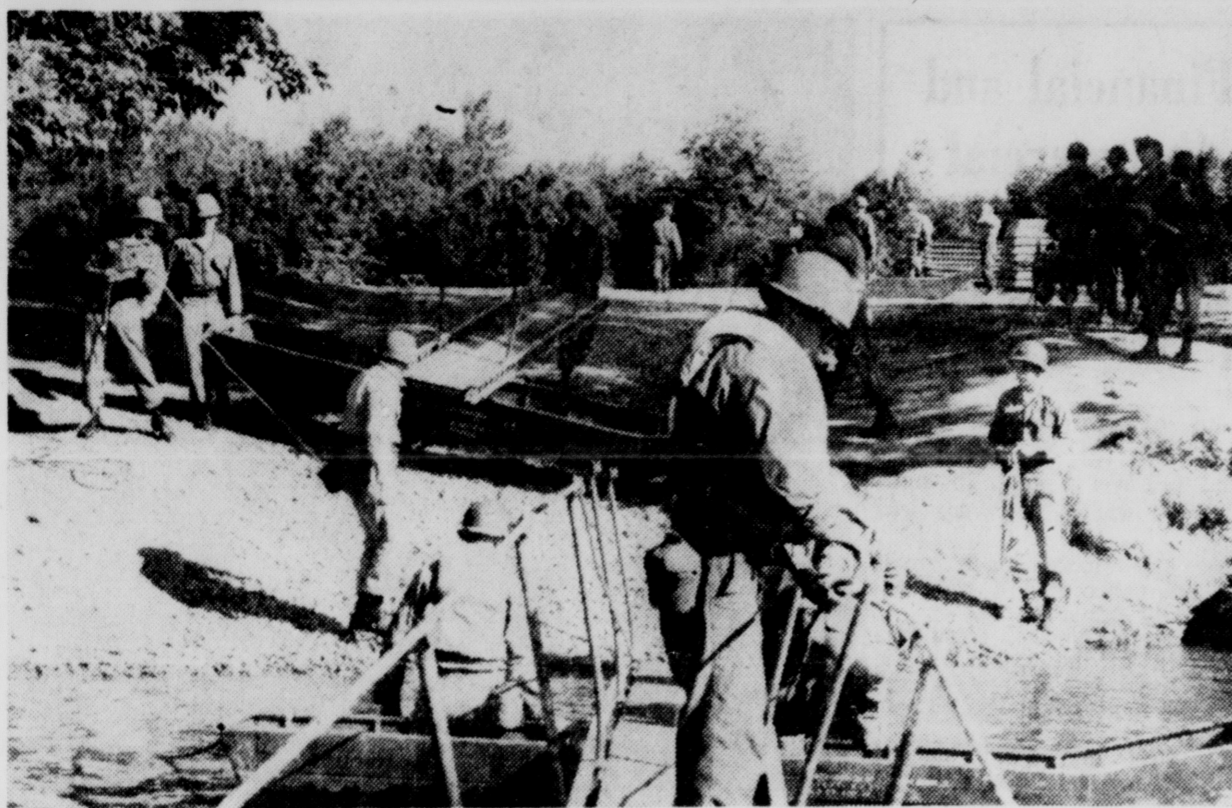

Mourner Is Thief

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Hundreds of visitors viewed the body of Jasper Wotting, 71, prominent restaurateur, between his death and funeral last week—and one of them may have departed with a $3,500 diamond stickpin from his necktie.

Police said Sunday they had no clues or suspects in the casket-raiding. The gold pin with diamond setting was missed shortly before the services.

Ambassador Returns

HAVANA (AP)—Haiti's ambassador to Cuba arrived home Sunday, heightening speculation that relations between the two Caribbean neighbors are at the breaking point.

TRAINING PROJECT—Members of the 854th Engineer Battalion (HV Cons), local Army Reserve unit on summer training at Camp Drum build a floating foot bridge for infantry troops under typical combat conditions in one of its training projects last week. Kingston men participating in the project were SP 5 J. Ward of Buckley Street; SP 4 R. Kelley of Pearl Street; SP 4 W. Zoeffler of Rodney Street; SP 4 Stephen J. Sepesy of Larch Street, and PFC Donald F. Planthaber of Broadway. Capt. William C. Wade of Virginia Avenue, Saugerties, is commander of the unit.

Harriman Says Red Propaganda Is On Way Out

NEW YORK (AP) — W. Averell Harriman, former ambassador to Russia, says the Soviet people "want to recapture that cooperative feeling" that existed between the United States and Russia during World War II.

Harriman, Democratic former governor of New York, said President Eisenhower will be "tumultuously received" on his visit to Russia.

Harriman, who recently visited Russia, spoke yesterday in a taped interview on a television program "Between the Lines" on WNTA-TV.

Noting Eisenhower's role as a wartime commander, Harriman said the Russian people "are proud of the great victory."

Harriman continued: "I think he (Eisenhower) may undermine the Soviet government's propaganda, because he will certainly tell the Russian people on radio and television and those that he meets that it is utterly unthinkable that any American government... would start a war. And I think it may have permanent influence in undermining their very false propaganda."

Discussing Premier Nikita Khrushchev's scheduled visit to the United States next month, Harriman said the United States "certainly can't change his mind."

"But I think we can perhaps make him understand the determination and vigor of the American people," Harriman added.

Johnson Proposes Congress Recess For Nikita Visit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George Smathers (D-Fla.) has proposed that Congress take a six-week recess starting next Friday.

Smathers, in a weekend letter to Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.), pointed to unfinished business—the stalemate over labor legislation, President Eisenhower's veto of the water bill, and a snarl over the Chicago lake diversion bill.

Smathers noted Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's visit starts Sept. 15 and said "I think it would be the most suitable thing for all of us to be at home visiting with our constituents at that time."

Johnson has said time and again that Congress should stay on the job until it passes major legislation including a controversial civil rights bill.

On this matter, Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-N.Y.) said Sunday he would like Khrushchev to witness "a good hot civil rights debate" while he is here and "show him that we don't send our minorities to Siberia."

Postmasters Confirmed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has confirmed these postmaster nominations by President Eisenhower for New York State: Harry H. Beebe, Big Flats; Francis W. Christiana, Circleville; Joseph M. Theil, Hunter; John S. Hobbs, Red Hook; Milford W. Ostrander, Sidney; Alexander Adamson, Victory Mills, and Robert B. Scott Jr., Warwick.

Fire in Knolls Home Started by Lightning Storm

Fire destroying a bed and some clothes in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Beckert of The Knolls Friday night was started by lightning entering through a wall socket. Saugerties fire officials said today.

Fire Chief Edward P. Sweeney, on police duty at the time said the lightning entered the house through the wiring and broke out of two of the wall sockets in the bedroom.

Firemen of Saugerties Fire Department under the command of Assistant Chief John C. Hill responded to the alarm at about 5:45 p. m. They carried the burning bed outdoors.

Units responding were Washington Hook & Ladder Company, C. A. Lynch Fire Company and R. A. Snyder Fire Company.

On Maneuvers

EUGENE F. LANG

West Point Cadet Eugene F. Lang of West Camp is currently on field maneuvers at the summer training camp at Fort Buckner at West Point.

During the two-month period, Cadet Lang and other members of the U. S. Military Academy class of 1962 will receive instruction in the operation and use of all infantry and artillery weapons.

Cadet Lang, 20, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest R. Lang of West Camp. He is a 1956 graduate of Saugerties High School.

Urges Talks Resume

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has appealed to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to resume talks with the West on controlled disarmament involving both nuclear and conventional weapons.

In a personal letter to the Soviet leader made public Sunday, Adenauer advanced disarmament as an area in which East-West agreement might be reached. Such problems as Berlin and German reunification were pushed into the background.

12 Suspects Face Arrest In NYC Murderous Attack

County Court Trial Term to Open Sept. 1

County Judge Luis G. Bruhn will convene the September trial term of court Tuesday, September 1, at 11 a. m. at which time the trial panel of jurors will report.

At 2 p. m. Judge Bruhn will call the civil calendar, which contains 181 cases, and makes up a day calendar for the second Monday, September 14, when the trial of civil actions will be taken up.

In a letter sent out by County Clerk Lawrence D. Craft, to attorneys the convening of the October term of Supreme court on October 5, is also noted. The Supreme Court calendar will be called at 2 p. m. on October 5. County Clerk Craft has been directed by the Court to request each attorney to review his cases on the calendar and get in touch with his adversary in an endeavor to work out dispositions by the opening of the October term. This request is being made by the court in order to speed up disposition of cases on the calendar.

Nehru Rules

a refueling stop in Delhi en route to East Pakistan.

The Indian prime minister will confer on Wednesday with the Dalai Lama, who is coming here from his exile home in Mussoorie, northern India. Next week Nehru will see Prime Minister Jigme Dorji of Bhutan and Prime Minister N. K. Rustomji of Sikim, tiny protectorates between India and Tibet. Nehru warned Peiping last week his government will defend both protectorates from any aggression.

Afraid to Offend

The Dalai Lama reportedly will ask Nehru to confer emigre government status on his entourage. Nehru has refused so far to take such a step for fear of offending Peiping.

In his statement, the Dalai Lama said the situation in Tibet had become "immeasurably darker and gloomier" since he fled to India last March when Chinese Reds were stamping out an uprising in Lhasa.

"I have no alternative than to appeal to the United Nations for the verdict of peace-loving and conscientious nations of the world," the god-king said, adding a "personal appeal to all the civilized countries of the world to lend the fullest support to our cause for freedom and justice."

Action on Viaduct

Ward, was named by Council President Harold L. Kaye at the Aug. 4 meeting, to consider Perry's charges.

It was Perry's claim that some street work in the upper Pearl Street area was done on a "capital improvement" basis without cost to taxpayers, while others were done at a cost of 75 per cent to property owners and 25 to the city.

May Get Partial Report

A letter from the mayor at the Aug. 4 meeting said a parking authority was proposed to act on many parking problems in various areas of the city. At least a partial report on that proposal could be made at Tuesday's meeting.

Alderman Hirschell Mayes, who has been ill for some time, it was learned today, is making satisfactory recovery, but it was indicated he is still not well enough to attend Tuesday night's session. The alderman at their last session sent a card to Councilman Mayes, and one received at the office of City Clerk Raymond A. McAndrew today, expressed thanks and appreciation to all Common Council members.

NEW YORK (AP)—Police said today that at least a dozen suspects would soon be arrested in connection with the latest outburst of murderous teen-age violence on New York City streets.

Chief of Detectives James B. Leggett said that two would be charged with homicide, and the rest with unlawful assembly or held as material witnesses.

Leggett said the fatal stabbings apparently did not represent organized gang action.

Two boys were stabbed to death early Sunday when a gang of boys armed with knives attacked a group of youngsters in a West Side playground.

Leader Wore Cape

The leader of the attacking group, police were told, wore a black cape and carried a cane. The deaths brought to four the number of young people killed in teen-age violence in a week. The city's toll so far this year is eight dead.

A third boy was stabbed in the stomach in Sunday's violence, a bottle was broken over another boy's head, and two other boys and a girl were roughed up.

Six boys and two girls were sitting in a darkened playground on Manhattan's West Side when they were set upon.

One of the boys who was roughed up, Jimmy Orphanos, 15, said the gang leader wore a black cape, "like the kind Dracula wears in the movies," and carried a cane.

Youth Warned

Orphanos said that the youth in the cloak told him just before the gang fled: "This will teach you to fool with the Young Lords."

Police said the gang was Spanish-speaking. Officers questioned members of the Young Lords, a Puerto Rican street gang which hangs out about 30 blocks away from the playground.

One of the survivors said an attacker yelled "we don't allow gringos near the park." Spanish-speaking people sometimes use "gringo" as a contemptuous word for North Americans.

The area where the violence broke out is not far from the old Hell's Kitchen section. It is an area of run-down tenements, where there is a delicate balance of tension between the older elements—Italians and others—and Puerto Rican newcomers.

Two Youths Die

The two 16-year-old boys, Anthony Krzesinski and Robert Young, staggered into tenements across the street before they collapsed and died.

Ewald Riemer, 18, was in fair condition in a hospital, suffering from a stab wound in the abdomen.

Harold Luken, 16, suffered less serious injuries when he was hit on the head with a bottle. His sister, Sandy, 14, escaped unhurt.

Orphanos was beaten with an umbrella, a 15-year-old girl with him, whose name was not disclosed, was punched in the face. Tony Wozniak, 15, was slugged several times.

Foot Specialist Attends Session

Dr. Gerald W. Sumner, foot specialist of Kingston, attended the 47th annual convention of the American Podiatry Association in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, New York City, August 27-Sept. 2.

Dr. Sumner reported that among the new advances in care of the feet described at the convention were methods of treating painful calluses, a new drug to stop nighttime itching of the feet and methods of diagnosing early arthritis by examination of the feet.

Convention speakers stressed the importance of frequent examination of children's feet as a means of preventing serious difficulties in later life.

The foot specialists agreed that about 70 per cent of the people will have something wrong with their feet before middle age.

Ike, Macmillan ...

pledged to cooperate with the United States along these lines. But the two leaders were said to have considered ways of broadening the basis of their efforts so other interested powers could join.

Most of these issues are expected to arise in one form or another during the Eisenhower talks with Khrushchev.

Eisenhower got another mighty "I like Ike" salute from Londoners today as he rode through the heart of the city to St. Paul's Cathedral.

Thousands Turn Out

Thousands massed around St. Paul's as the President and Prime Minister rolled up in an open car. They went to the cathedral to spend a solemn half hour in the chapel Britain built in memory of 28,000 Americans who lost their lives in World War II and had been based in the United Kingdom.

The President returned to the city for a round of appointments and an informal, televised report to the world with Macmillan to-night on their talks about future relations between the West and the Soviet Union.

Will Return to U. S.

The sound portion of the Eisenhower-Macmillan telecast will be relayed to the United States for broadcast live by American radio networks. Tapes of the program will be flown across the Atlantic for showing on American TV. The British Broadcasting Corp. and Europe's Eurovision network will carry the appearance to a potential audience of nearly 100 million viewers in Western Europe.

"We don't know what they are going to say," said a BBC spokesman. "There is no script."

The President had a full schedule after his drive back with Macmillan from Chequers. It included a half-hour visit to the chapel in St. Paul's Cathedral which commemorates American World War II dead who were stationed in Britain, a conference with Spanish Foreign Minister Fernando Arias Castiella, and—after the telecast—a formal dinner given by Macmillan at his official residence, No. 10 Downing St.

Churchill Present

Britain's wartime chief, Sir Winston Churchill, flew back to London from a Riviera vacation to attend the dinner with his old comrade in arms and also another Tuesday night which Eisenhower is giving for a large group of his wartime associates.

During their weekend at Chequers, Eisenhower and Macmillan met with their foreign ministers for an hour Saturday night and for another hour Sunday morning before church. The two leaders also talked alone several times, including during an unscheduled two-hour drive they made through the English countryside to Oxford University.

Attend Church Together

The President and the prime minister attended Anglican services at the 800-year-old church of St. Peter and St. Paul, a few miles from Chequers.

The vicar, the Rev. Cyril Norman White, complained in his sermon: "Two of the greatest men in the world have broken off their conferences in order to turn to God, to seek his blessing, his guidance and his grace."

After the service, standing in the brilliant sunshine, Eisenhower said to the vicar: "Thank you for your sermon. I feel God is what we need."

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—Strength in some of the steels and motors helped give the stock market a selective advance early this afternoon. Trading was moderately active.

Some of the favored stocks among the list of key issues gained well over a point. The market as a whole, however, was spotty.

Most key stocks made small gains and there was a wide assortment of minor losses.

The irregular upward trend was established at the start. As the session wore on, a few of the steels and motors met fairly lively demand.

U. S. Steel and Ford touched new highs for the year. The rise of the steels and motors was not unanimous, however.

Trading was at a slightly faster rate than on Friday's sluggish session.

U. S. Steel jumped about 2 while Youngstown Sheet posted a gain exceeding 2. Republic Steel rose.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 40 cents to $231.30 with the industrials up 60 cents, the rails up 10 cents and the utilities up 20 cents.

Government bonds shaded to new record lows.

WET PAVEMENT SKIDDING, police said, resulted in injuries to three persons on Abeel, near Hamilton Street, Saturday night, when this car, owned by Stella A. Vilardo, of 234 Dayton Avenue, Clifton, N. J., went off the road and hit a section of guard rail after passing another car. It was driven by John L. Avella, 17, of the same address. Injured were Kathleen Woods, 19, of 66 Hunter Street, laceration of the forehead and concussion; John Avella, 13, of the Clifton address, a laceration and contusion of the right arm. The latter two were discharged after treatment at Kingston Hospital and Kathleen Woods remained there over night. Officer Kenneth Radcliff (left) investigated. (Freeman Photo).

Local Man Completes Photography Course

Edward J. Casazza of IBM, Kingston, has been awarded a special certificate of merit by the Winona School of Photography, Winona Lake, Ind., for successfully completing an intensive course on Industrial Photographic Management. The school is conducted by the Professional Photographers of America, Inc., 79-year-old trade association.

Internationally known for its courses, the school is open to experienced professional photographers during June, July and August each year. Howard Weber, M. Photog., is director of the school. Instructors of the course are: Richard C. Kinstler, Procter & Gamble, Cincinnati, O.; Dr. A. W. Gutenberg, Ph.D., Arizona State University, Phoenix, Ariz.; A. C. Peed, Rochester, N. Y.; Edwin S. Purington, Ford Motor Co., Dearborn, Mich.; and Earl G. Stanton, Bell Aircraft Corp., Buffalo.

More than 700 professional photographers from all parts of the U. S. including Alaska and Canada have registered for the courses at Winona this summer.

Winona School of Photography was founded 38 years ago to keep professional photographers abreast of the latest development and advancements in their field. New techniques, new equipment and materials, as well as new methods of photography, are among the subjects covered in the Winona curriculum.

Speedway 'Bad Boy' Dies in Flaming Car

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) —Speedway bad boy Ed Elisian, suspended last year as the trigger man in a 16-car fatal crash at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, died screaming Sunday in the flames of his green racing car.

Elisian, 32, from Oakland, Calif., returned to the tracks only last June 7, making his first start in a 100-mile big car race at the Wisconsin fair grounds, scene of Sunday's wreck.

Elisian's car, traveling at an estimated 130 miles an hour, skidded on an oil slick, crashed into the wall, overturned and burst into flames. The car rode the retaining wall 200 feet, then flipped upside down on the one-mile paved track.

Elisian waved his arms and screamed as he tried to free himself from his burning car.

Parents Refuse Surgery Consent For Their Child

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP)—"I love my parents and I believe they have a right to their beliefs. But I believe I have a right to my sight and my life."

Charlene Butts, 19, is struggling with a dilemma. Physicians say she has a tumor on the pituitary gland in the brain and probably will be blind in two years and dead in four or five. She has lost 40 per cent of her sight.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Butts of Oswego, Kan., have refused to consent to surgery for their daughter.

Petitions Court

Atty. Emil C. Anderson Jr. has petitioned the District Court here in Miss Butts' behalf, requesting she be declared an adult so she can give her consent for the operation.

She says a nonmedical practitioner with a clinic in rural Oklahoma has convinced her father there is nothing wrong with her. "I took 11 treatments from him," she said. "I think my parents paid him about $81 for them."

"He flicked his finger in front of my eyes a couple of times and then told me my eyesight wasn't damaged 40 per cent."

"He told my parents there was an excess of water in my system, that it was filling up my lungs and my head."

Returns to Job

The girl returned to her $37.50-a-week clerical job here after the treatments, but began having blackouts.

"My mother would give her consent immediately," Charlene said, "but she won't go against my father."

"This man down here has just convinced them there is nothing wrong with me."

Charlene's father declined comment on his daughter's statement.

Checkup Time for the Kids

GO SLOW, SCHOOL'S OPEN! posters will soon be cautioning drivers. Soon the kids will be trooping back — to nursery schools, kindergartens, elementary schools, junior and senior high schools, and colleges.

There ought to be a sign that says GO FAST — TO YOUR DOCTOR FOR A CHECKUP. Before school opens is a good time to take all the children for their yearly examinations. Eyes should be examined to see whether glasses are needed or if they need changing, and hearing should be tested. Often a child who is doing poorly in school turns out to have poor vision or hearing. The dentist should be visited too.

Ask your doctor to include in his general checkup the tuberculin test for TB. This test shows only infection — whether TB germs have entered the body.

Many Americans, one out of every 3 or 4, are known to have TB germs in their bodies. This doesn't mean that they're sick. They may be perfectly well. A healthy body is so well able to fight off an attack by TB germs, as well as other germs, that the individual may not even be aware of their presence.

If the tuberculin test shows that your child has been infected with TB germs, don't be alarmed. Have a chest X-ray made, to make sure the germs haven't done any damage, keep the child always as healthy as possible and the germs will probably make no headway.

Children of all ages can be infected with TB, even babies. But school age children can fight infection off much more readily.

After 15 (here's where the high school and college crowd comes in) there's a dramatic rise in the number of persons having active TB. They may have been infected as children without ever knowing it. Teenage carelessness in health habits may bring TB out in the open.

When children are off to school, you'll have time for a checkup for yourself. TB respects no age. But good health respects no germs.

Two Children Saved As Small Car Burns

OLEAN, N. Y. (AP)—A miniature gasoline-driven automobile burst into flames Sunday, minutes after its two young passengers were snatched from danger by their older brother.

Richard Siegel, 17, said he became alarmed when he saw gasoline leaking from the car's tank. He pulled Sally, 8, and Brock, 12, from the car.

Sally was driving the $500 car in a parking lot. It was capable of reaching speeds of up to 25 miles an hour. It was wrecked by the fire.

Conservative Bid Is Wise Choice

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

South might well have tried for seven after his partner's jump raise. If he had used the Blackwood route he would have located all aces and kings and surely bid the grand slam but South was one of those old-fashioned players who did not believe in seven bids unless he could personally see 13 tricks so he contented himself with a quick six bid.

This time his decision turned out wise indeed. The singleton ace of hearts opposite the singleton king gave no opportunity for a discard and when South saw the dummy it looked as if he would have to go down one at six.

But, South had no trouble making his contract. He won the heart lead, drew five rounds of trumps, cashed the aces and kings of the two minor suits and then went into a short trance. He flipped a mental coin and led a diamond. East won but since East had started with only two clubs he had to give South a ruff and a discard so South made the hand.

South's trance had been unnecessary. West had started with only two diamonds and a

Keating Expects Calm GOP Session

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Kenneth B. Keating (R-NY) says he doubts a serious floor fight will develop at the 1960 Republican National Convention over selection of a presidential candidate.

"I don't share the view which was expressed indeed by the Republican national chairman, Sen. (Thurston B.) Morton (Ky.), that there's going to be a knock-down, drag-out fight at the convention," Keating said Sunday.

Keating said he "would guess" that the candidate chosen would be vice President Richard M. Nixon or Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York.

He made the comments on a television panel show conducted by Sens. Joseph S. Clark (D) and Hugh Scott (R) of Pennsylvania. Scott asked Keating whether he had expressed the view that Nixon would nominate Rockefeller or Rockefeller would nominate Nixon at the convention.

"I think that's quite possible," Keating replied. "Yes, I did say that and I think that's a very possible eventuality."

Scott said it was his view that Nixon would be nominated, and on the first ballot by acclamation.

No Heart Attack, Says J. R. Hanley's Physician

WARSAW, N. Y. (AP)—The physician for Joe R. Hanley says the former lieutenant governor is suffering from a coronary insufficiency and did not suffer a heart attack last Friday.

Dr. Charles Wagenhals said Sunday the ex-state official probably would go home sometime this week.

"He's doing very well, but we have decided to keep him in the hospital a few more days," the doctor said.

Hanley, 83, collapsed at his home. He had suffered a heart attack last year while in Florida. He served as lieutenant governor under Thomas E. Dewey from 1943 through 1950.

ONE OF 7 BESTS
CHEVROLET GIVES YOU OVER ANY CAR IN ITS FIELD

Proof that Chevy delivers the most miles from a gallon comes from an indisputable source: this year's Mobilgas Economy Run. For a pair of Chevrolet sixes with Powerglide walked away with the first two places in their class — got top mileage, in fact, of any full-sized car. Over the Run's long, rugged course, over mountain and desert in the long, long haul from Los Angeles to Kansas City, the winning Chevrolet averaged a whopping 22.38 miles per gallon. That's the kind of economy-engineering that keeps you saving while you drive!

BEST STYLE—It's the only car of the leading low-priced 3 that's unmistakably modern in every line. "In its price class," says POPULAR SCI-ENCE magazine, "a new high in daring styling."

BEST BRAKES—In competitive tests of repeated stops from highway speeds, conducted by NASCAR, Chevy outstopped both of the "other two." Naturally—Chevy brakes with bonded linings are far larger, built to lengthen brake life by up to 66%.

BEST TRADE-IN—Look at the record—the used car prices in any N.A.D.A.† Guide Book. You'll find that Chevy used car prices last year averaged up to $128 higher than comparable models of the "other two."

BEST ENGINE—Chevrolet engines have long won expert praise and, just recently, Chevrolet received the NASCAR Outstanding Achievement award for "the creation and continuing development of America's most efficient V-type engines."

BEST ROOM—Official dimensions reported to A.M.A.‡ make this abundantly clear. Chevy front seat hip room, for instance, is as much as 5.9 inches wider than in comparable cars.

BEST RIDE—MOTOR TREND magazine names Chevy "the smoothest, most quiet, softest riding car in its price class." But this is one Chevy feature you really should discover for yourself, at your Chevrolet dealer's. Stop by soon!

Mayor Prepared To Launch Safe Driving Program

A campaign emphasizing safe driving in school areas will be opened officially Tuesday at 2 p. m., outside the city hall by Mayor Edwin F. Radel.

Sponsored by the Automobile Club of New York, it is known as the 14th annual "School's Open, Drive Carefully," campaign, and here will involve distribution of 200 posters, the first of which will be mounted by the mayor. He will be assisted by Martin Klein, assistant automobile club secretary.

Designed to alert drivers to caution, some 25,000 of the placards will be displayed in the New York metropolitan area in September and October, and some 150,000 bumper strips are to be distributed.

Since 1945, it was noted, the year before the AAA campaign began, a 43 per cent statewide cut in traffic fatalities among school children from five to 14 years old, in September and October, has been reported. In the same period, motor vehicle registrations have increased 106 per cent.

William Kroll, Arthur Balsam In Final Maverick Concert

William Kroll, violinist and Arthur Balsam, pianist, a world-famed chamber music team with special Woodstock ties and especially looked-forward-to each year by Woodstock concertgoers, will appear in the final Sunday Afternoon Concert of the season at the Maverick Concert Hall Sunday, Sept. 6, at 4 p. m. They will present an all-Beethoven program.

William Kroll, one of the most outstanding chamber musicians in the country, a noted teacher and composer, has participated for a full quarter century—since 1934—in the Maverick Sunday Concerts, behind which he was a driving force for many years. He has toured extensively as chamber musician, in recitals and appeared as soloist with major orchestras throughout the United States, Mexico, Canada and Europe. He was first violinist of the famed Coolidge Quartet from 1935 to 1945, and in the latter year founded the Kroll String Quartet which has become one of the leading string quartets in the United States.

Leading Teacher
He has taught in leading music schools and as Visiting Professor in several great universities in the country. He has been head of the Violin Department and the Peabody Conservatory of Chamber Music Department at Music in Baltimore since 1947, and as co-head of the Chamber Music Dept. at Berkshire Music Festival, Tanglewood, Mass., he has taught and played there since 1949.

William Kroll and Arthur Balsam have long been a famed Chamber music combination. Balsam, who came to the U. S. about 20 years ago, was recognized in Europe as one of the greatest living accompanists. He is also renowned as a soloist both in this country and abroad. He has accompanied Kroll on many concert tours, the latest in Europe in the fall of last year; they are scheduled for their next European tour this coming November.

Famous Violin

The violin used by Kroll is the "Ernst" Stradivarius, dated 1709. This superb instrument, which has a glorious reputation as a concert violin, was acquired by Kroll in 1950 from the well-known collection of Emil Herrmann in New York City.

The program Sunday will include the following Beethoven masterworks: Sonata No. 1, Opus 12 in D Major; Sonata No. 10, Opus 96, in G Major; and Sonata No. 9, Opus 47, in A Major (Kreutzer).

forms tonight at 8:45 in a special evening recital at the Maverick Concert Hall in Woodstock.

The program is under the sponsorship of the Woodstock Festival of Music and Art. Johannesen's program will include works by Mozart, Schumann, Faure, Poulenc and Debussy.

Woodstock Home Unit Plans Fall Meeting

The Woodstock Home Demonstration Unit will hold the fall opening meeting in the Recreation building at Holiday Inn, Tuesday, Sept. 8, at 8 p. m. Members are asked to bring their own lunch. Cake, coffee and ice cream will be served by the unit.

Alf Evers, official historian of the Town of Woodstock, will be the guest speaker. He will speak about the statewide observance of the Hudson-Champlain celebration.

Writers' Workshops In Final Sessions

The final session in the summer series of regional writers' workshops will be held at the Colony Arts Center, Woodstock, on Wednesday, September 2, at 8:15 p. m. In the concluding session, Bill Newgold will discuss how to plan and prepare a Fall and Winter schedule of writing, which will include where and how to find topics of general interest, methods of research, writing discipline, future markets for articles and fiction, as well as other points that should keep the manuscripts flowing from Woodstock for a considerable time to come.

Attendance at the first series of writers' conferences to be held in Woodstock at the Arts Center has been excellent and plans are already underway for an extended program next year with more classes, round-table discussions with well-known writers in all fields participating as guest speakers.

HEALTH COORDINATOR INTRODUCED—Michael R. Moran, left, newly appointed health coordinator of the Ulster County Board of Cooperative Educational Services, is introduced to the executive committee of the Ulster County TB and Health Association at a recent meeting at 124 Green Street. Others are Henry F. Hopper, center, director of the board of cooperative services, and Dr. Bernard E. Hughes, program director of the state committee on tuberculosis and public health.

New School Health Plan Is Outlined at Meeting

A school health program to be sponsored jointly by the Ulster County TB and Health Association and the Ulster County Board of Cooperative Educational Services was outlined at a meeting of the TB association executive committee and representatives of other health and allied agencies, recently at 124 Green Street.

The guests were invited to meet Michael R. Moran, newly appointed health coordinator of the Ulster County Board of Cooperative Educational Services. Moran will carry on a program in six central school districts of the Board of Cooperative Services, assisting the administrators and teachers in the system with many phases of the school program related to health.

In opening the meeting Tuesday evening Miss Hazel M. Steed, executive director of the Ulster County TB and Health Association, explained to those present that the Ulster County TB and Health Association, through a cooperative arrangement, will sponsor the health program as a pilot study with the Ulster County Board of Cooperative Educational Services.

Important Health Projects
Miss Steed said this is in line with the policy of the TB Association, to carry on important health projects for a demonstration period. The board of directors of the Ulster County TB and Health Association had voted to finance the health education program in cooperation with the Board of Cooperative Educational Services.

Dr. Frederic W. Holcomb Sr., president of the TB Association, said, "our board members were with whom he has worked to date. He welcomed the opportunity of meeting representatives, each of whom offered their full cooperation in this new educational program for Ulster County.

Explains Program

During the meeting Dr. Bernard E. Hughes, program director with the state committee on tuberculosis and public health, explained the importance of a health education program in the schools and how much a health coordinator can do to bring about better understanding of health problems to administrators, teachers and parents while working hand in hand with community health and welfare agencies.

Frank Hazard, assistant to the superintendent of Kingston Education Dept. who was formerly with the Binghamton school system and served as the representative member from Binghamton to the New York Heart Assembly, was also present. Hazard worked with the school health coordinator in the Binghamton schools, and related the many advantages of such a program and its value to it for the administrator, the teacher, the parent and for our first and most important concern: "The health of our children which is the strength of the nation."

Following the meeting refreshments were served while Moran met those present during the social hour.

Something to Brag About

CHICAGO (AP)—Chicago is ceding to New York the honor of having the world's fastest telephone directory.

The new Chicago directory has 1,779 pages, compared with 1,836 pages in New York's Manhattan directory.

The old Chicago directory had 2,133 pages, but the Illinois Bell Telephone Co. cut the size by using five columns of listings per page instead of four.

Chicago still claims the most listings, about one million in its directory compared with 776,000 in the Manhattan book.

Gaede Receives Commander's Pin At Legion Post

Chester Gaede was presented with his past commander's pin at the August meeting of Woodstock Post 1026 of the American Legion.

The presentation was made by the post adjutant, William Polk, who pointed out that Gaede had earned the commendation of the county department for his excellent record. The post rose to an all time record membership of 146 under Gaede.

The post accepted membership application from Joseph Anthony Kenny and Rudolph Shultis of Woodstock.

Commander John Harrison introduced a prominent guest, Lt. Commander George Powell of Washington, former aide to Gen. Jonathan Wainwright, and also past national commander of the Disabled American Veterans and chairman of the Hospital Committee of the Department of New York State.

Compliments Post

Commander Powell complimented the members on the enthusiasm they exhibited for their various projects and said they were "on the right track." He also pointed out that "when a community finds out a Legion post participates in community affairs, it will support your activities."

Jack Feeley, chairman of the Rifle Committee, said $40 had been collected to date. The club also adopted a proposal by Jack Chalmers to institute a monthly attendance prize.

Commander Harrison also alerted the membership to the county meeting scheduled in Woodstock in September. The post and the auxiliary are co-operating with the details. The post committee includes Schuyler Schultz, who is in charge of refreshments; Chester Gaede, Art DeNapoli, Grant Gavin, Benjamin Buley, Jack Chalmers and John Craven.

The commander also announced that a painting bee would be called in the near future.

Teamsters Union Drive Underway

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—An attempt by the Teamsters Union to organize state employees means "the spectre of Jimmy Hoffa's racket and crime-ridden union looms over New York State," the president of the State Civil Service Employees Assn. said today.

John F. Powers said the Teamster campaign was announced recently by Harry Feinstein, president of Teamsters Local 237 in New York City.

This is the same Teamster chief, Powers said, that incurred the wrath of most New York City residents by his efforts to organize New York City police.

"During that organizing campaign, Local 237 employed the same tactics of threats, intimidation, strike calls and bravado that are hallmarks of Hoffa's methods of doing business by brute force of word and deed," he said.

In a statement, Powers continued:

"We can certainly expect more of the same in Mr. Feinstein's new campaign.

"The Teamsters Union is Hoffa's personal organization and most union locals including Local 237 are nothing more than a tool used by Hoffa to further his ambition to dominate the labor scene in America.

"It is Teamster ambition, not consideration for the state's workers, that has launched this drive."

Geohorsesense Year

By FRANK TRIPP

Now that a crazy summer is near over, ways it could have passed more contentedly turn up. Fanny pipes. "You'll have to show me how any human could have exerted himself less."

Her challenge is answered by wise and happy little Cokey, who sometimes makes me wish I were a dog. It has been things that do not bother Cokey that got me down—deficits, inflation, geophysics—all of the "geos," spend-thrifts and isms.

Things I can do little about except fret, then write to worry other people. Thinking of contentment, my mind goes back to Pop.

My father was the most relaxed, contented man I ever knew, absorbed in the business of minding his own. My peppy mother was out to wrestle with life, my father out to enjoy it. It could be inheritance of these contrasting ambitions that made me the nuisance that I am.

MOTHER WAS the "geo" type, would have run for mayor, congress; my father the type who never would have voted for her. The longer I live the better I understand why; the more I crave Pop's peace of soul, his tranquil existence, and Cokey's gratitude for little and satisfaction with it. It is the absence of these virtues that has upset the world—and mused up my summer.

I MIGHT have palmed off "the best of Tripp" (had there been any), or stage a phony re-run "demand." Then beat it away from postman, phone and civilization; hire a "guest" writer—and come back in the fall with a Western—and a horse. For sure, a horse.

Newspapers are dumb. With acres of news they could reprint they persist in slaying all summer, bating out their brains digging up new stuff for a public that sits up half the night to watch ten-year old movies.

My kingdom for a horse. I'm stuck in a sucker racket, 'cause I don't have a horse, nor half his sense.

FOR THE first time, I passed up a favorite summer gripe. Orville Allen in his Genesee Express didn't overlook our "safe and sane" Fourth of July. Said he:

"We've made it just peachy pie dandy for the kids. Instead of a bit of sulphur in their shins, we maim, behead, disembowel and mash people by the hundreds—young and old." He sums up:

"About the only thing left that a kid can get arrested for is shooting off firecrackers." What a mouthful.

TO HELP fill the summer hiatus, I was going to do one on "Why don't kids whistle any more?" Then that very morning I was awakened at dawn by a barefoot Tom Sawyer whistling his way to the fishing hole. I wasn't mad. I was encouraged.

But by the time this lad will burn up the roads instead of fireworks, he will be educated, legislated, confined, controlled and repressed out of his whistle; deprived of gainful boyhood activity and the horse-sense bringing up that makes self reliant men.

So I'm suggesting International Geohorsesense Year—when men and nations get their feet back on the ground.

And let God run this Universe. (Copyright, 1959, General Features Corp.)

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

Some 32 years ago Saturday, Sept. 12, 1927, Kingston was celebrating its 150th birthday. Governor Alfred E. Smith, it is said, came here on a yacht. According to The Freeman of above date: "A cool, clear September day greeted the multitude who gathered in Kingston . . . Senator James W. Wadsworth arrived at Rhinecliff about 5 p. m. Friday when he was met by Collector of the Port of New York, Philip Elting by whom he was entertained during his stay in this city. Senator Wadsworth and Mr. Elting were brought to Kingston on the tug-boat, Rob, of the Cornell Steamboat Co.

Another item on the front page mentioned that the downtown business men were "highly indignant over the fact that Gov. Smith, when he landed from his yacht off Kingston Point, was taken uptown through the back streets instead of through The Strand and lower Broadway, which had been artistically decorated for the occasion." It seems the streets of downtown were lined with people in hope of seeing the Governor and his party whirled through the city in automobiles.

Another item reads in part, "Reception committee for the Governor was waiting at the wrong dock, but quickly scurried to the right one and the Governor was duly met. It seems Gov. Smith landed at the Rondout Yacht Club, at 11 a. m. from his yacht, Saelmo, while the welcoming committee headed by Judge A. Clearwater and Col. George F. Chandler were waiting on the Hudson River Day Line pier at Kingston Point. It seems at the last moment they realized their mistake and jumped into their waiting automobiles and hurried to the brow of the hill overlooking the club house. Who remembers and witnessed this organized chaos, which makes for pleasant remembering. It's the thing that happens unexpectedly like the above that one remembers the longest and can smile about it years later. The Saelmo yacht, was owned by William H. Todd of New York City, a friend of the late Gov. Smith. It arrived off Kingston Point during the night and anchored out in the river about 300 feet off shore from the Rondout Yacht Club.

The newspaper described how a few minutes to 11 o'clock, when signs of activity were noticed on the Saelmo and the tender was seen to draw up to the landing stage of the yacht and Gov. Smith and his party descended into the tender which immediately shot away from the yacht. It was first thought the tender was heading toward the pier where the committee waited but it was soon seen that the tender was to land at Rondout Yacht Club.

Gov. Smith was accompanied

Watch the Puffs

CHICAGO (AP)—The National Safety Council suggests that, when passing, watch the exhaust pipe of the car ahead for smoke puffs. A lazy puff means the driver has taken his foot from the accelerator. Perhaps he's slowing for a turn. A sharp gust of smoke may mean the motorist ahead is speeding up so that you will be unable to pass.

How to control your tensions, and live happier

If you can't stop thinking about your problems . . . if you're easily upset by little things . . . if you're often nervous and fretful . . . then your tensions may be getting the best of you and it's time to do something about it!

The first thing to do is to realize this: you're not alone! At least one out of ten Americans have emotional problems that are so serious they need medical attention. And millions more of us have these minor emotional problems which don't need medical treatment, but do make us unhappy.

The second thing to do is to send for the new free booklet, "How to Deal With Your Tensions". In it, you'll find proven suggestions that will help you control your tensions, so you can lead a happier, fuller life.

That happy voting time of year is here again! Time for you to elect MISS RHEINGOLD 1960!

Choose your favorite candidate—vote for her today at any Rheingold store or tavern

Meet the six lovely young hopefuls—your candidates for the title of Miss Rheingold 1960. These happy finalists were chosen last spring from hundreds of the prettiest girls in New York, Boston and California—by a panel of famous judges.

Here are a few of the judges who selected this year's candidates: Bob Cummings, Stevan Dohanos, Irene Dunne, Jinx Falkenburg, Mona Freeman, Art Linkletter, Guy Lombardo, Terry Moore, Rosalind Russell, Leonard Sillman and Jon Whitecomb.

Now it's up to you to name the one winner! With six such pretty candidates in the running, the 1960 Miss Rheingold Election promises to be a close one indeed. That's why each and every ballot is important. Your vote and the votes of your friends could very well carry your candidate to fame and fortune.

$50,000 contract for the girl you elect! The lucky girl who wins the Miss Rheingold title not only wins a year's contract worth $50,000. She'll also enjoy a world of wonderful traveling—and go on to fame as the most photographed girl in town.

Join the fun, vote today! Over 40,000 convenient "polls"! Get in on the fun and excitement of America's second-largest election! Pick the candidate you like best right now. Then vote for her today or any day through October 3. You'll find the colorful Election Ballot Box awaiting you at Rheingold dealers everywhere.

Every vote counts—every vote is counted by an impartial research organization. So the decision is entirely yours. Now, on to the polls to support your candidate!

In all America, there's nothing quite like the Miss Rheingold Election. Just as there's nothing like the satisfying, true-beer taste of the beer itself—refreshing Rheingold Extra Dry. Most people agree—which is why Rheingold is New York's largest-selling beer, and the most imitated beer in America.

Khrushchev Could Give 'Better Meals' Pointers

Editor's Note: The food news in this dispatch comes from the Food & Markets Editor of NEA Service, who has written a special series of articles tied to the theme "Better Meals Build Better Families." This will soon appear in The Kingston Daily Freeman. We urge you to read this expert contribution toward solving a vital family problem.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food & Markets Editor
BOSTON, (NEA)—a newspaper campaign with the theme "Better Meals Build Better Families" (Sept. 14-26) will coincide with the visit of Soviet Premier Khrushchev to this country. Khrushchev can give us pointers, American scientists report.

Says Dr. Frederick J. Stare, chairman of the Harvard University department of nutrition:

"The Russians have several fine institutes of nutrition doing brilliant work. The government conducts intensive advertising campaigns to teach parents the nutritional importance of more milk, more potatoes, etc., in meals whenever any good food is in surplus. They are also making technological strides in canning and freezing to insure their families more of essential foods."

Visitors to Russia are impressed by the healthy, handsome children.

"The Soviet government pays great attention to better family life and the strength of children," Stare continued. "Their textbooks on nutrition and visual aids are outstanding. Look at this handsome example, 'Nutrition Instruction In The Elementary School,' he said, picking up a book from his desk in the Harvard School of Public Health. "An authentic and skillfully written job. On slick paper and with better illustrations than anything we have on the subject in the United States."

Stare's work takes him all over the world.

"Russia and the United States are not the only countries which know that better meals build better families," he said, adding that he was one of a medical mission that served three months in Indonesia to teach modern medicine and nutrition.

"President Sukarno is determined to build a stronger country through better food. He turned the back lawn of his 'White House' into a vegetable garden as an example of how people can improve their diets."

Many countries send their public health workers to the Harvard School of Public Health for refresher courses or advanced research in nutrition, he said. Among them are Chile, Australia, French West Africa, Lebanon, and Japan. They return home better equipped to carry on their government's drive for improved meals.

"The new president of Colombia, Alberto Llerias Camargo, is a democratic man, determined to build happier citizens through better nutrition," Stare said. "On his request and financed through a grant from the U. S. State Department, we sent one of our best experts, Dr. Martha Trulson, to Colombia to make a survey of family needs. She worked with their newly established Institute of Nutrition on ways to improve diets through wider use of local foods. In a country that usually thinks of agriculture as raising coffee only, this was not easy."

Recently King Leopold of the Belgians invited Stare to the Belgian Congo to study their nutrition activities.

In the jungle, a pediatrician, Dr. E. M. de Maeyer, is studying nutritional needs of growing children under unusually favorable conditions, he reported.

"In houses separated from their other research projects, they keep children from three to seven years of age for a long time, often years, with permission of the parents. This extended period makes it possible to study children while they are growing and to get nearer to understanding why they are sick, retarded, or healthy and the part food plays in their development or lack of it," he explained.

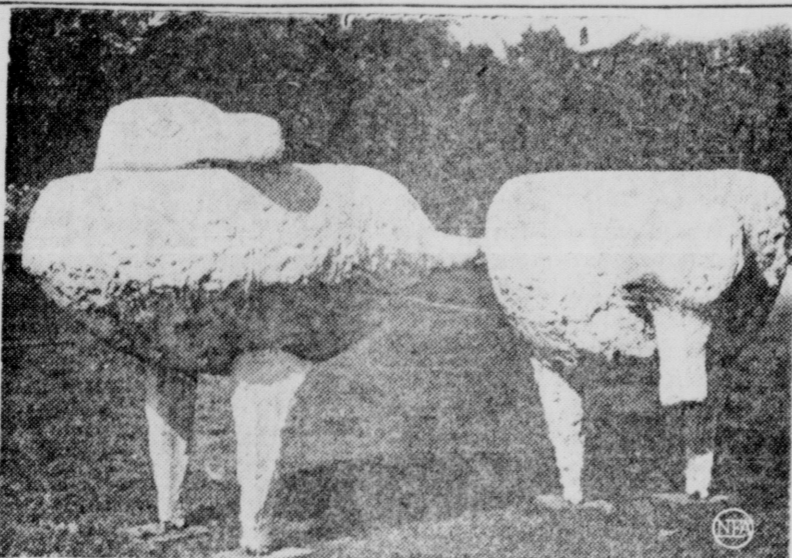

"I doubt if these intensive long-term studies so vital to mankind could be done with a group of 20 children anywhere else in the world."

Belgian scientists use chimpanzees for research in heart, nutrition and live polio vaccine. The chimps are closest to man both physically and intellectually and their life span is just half of ours. In the Congo they cost about $40. Here they cost $1,000 each and the supply is erratic.

Stare hopes the Belgian Government will cooperate in establishing chimpanzee breeding farms to supply scientific institutions throughout the world for vital research in medicine and nutrition.

"One of these days," he said, "our children may be getting more fun out of eating balanced meals because their mothers tell them 'this is what the monkeys like.'"

The state of Maine has almost 17 million acres of forest land.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Caught with their budgets down state legislatures have made more major tax changes this year than in any year since the war. With few exceptions the changes were to get more dough.

The fiscal picture for most of them changed from rosy to dark in the period between 1957 and 1959, the Tax Foundation reports today.

Collections Pinched

"Two years ago," says the private research organization, "the future appeared bright to most states. They had larger general fund balances than they had an-tipated. Tax revenues were productive beyond expectation."

Then the recession pinched tax collections. At the same time there were increased demands because of rising populations, increasing costs and clamor for broader and improved services.

When new budgets came up this year a considerable number of states found they had deficits, a new postwar experience for most of them. Others feared deficits before the end of the fiscal year.

Still Set Record

Even so, tax collections by the states as a whole set a record in fiscal 1959 of 15 1/2 billion dollars, up one billion dollars in a year, the Commerce Department reports. It was just that demands for more spending rose even faster.

The Tax Foundation has reviewed legislation in 38 states where the lawmakers have adjourned. Eight other legislatures are still in session and there were no sessions in the remaining states. The Foundation reports 111 major tax changes, compared with the previous peak of 101 in 1955.

Of this year's major changes, 87 involve tax increases, 12 are new taxes, and 5 are reductions. One state repealed a tax. Six started general withholding of personal income taxes.

The foundation feels sure the state legislatures still in session will add to the final total of major tax changes.

15 Don't Ask Boosts

Among major tax increases approved to date are 8 on individual incomes, 8 on corporate income, 12 on sales, 4 on gasoline, 17 on tobacco and 12 on alcoholic beverages.

Fifteen governors submitted budgets asking for no new revenue sources. They planned a balance by use of cash on hand, increased collections from existing taxes or by borrowing. However, three of their state legislatures increased taxes anyway.

The one repeal was in Kansas where the oil and gas severance tax (based on depletion of natural resources) was withdrawn after having been declared unconstitutional.

Reduced rates were ordered by: Louisiana on pari-mutuel pools, Montana on corporate income, Oregon on public utilities and some manufacturer's equipment.

John Nixon gave the first public reading of the Declaration of Independence to an assembly of Philadelphians on July 8, 1776.

A fashion show scheduled for Tuesday night at St. Joseph's School hall will terminate the sixth annual sewing contest sponsored by Singer Sewing Machine Company.

Mrs. Dorothy A. Narel, Freeman Society Editor, will be the fashion commentator and judges will be Mrs. Dorothy Traut of Stone Ridge; Mrs. Frank Altieri, Stone Ridge; and Miss Margaret Gippert of Mt. Marion.

Three categories will be presented and the winner from each will have her dress entered in a state-wide contest at Rochester. Girls taking first place in the Rochester competition will be awarded sewing machines.

The awards on the local level will include a hat box sewing kit for first place in the three age categories which are Tweens, 10-13; Teen Group, 14-17; and Misses and Madams, 18-21. All judging will be done on a point system.

The judging and fashion show on Tuesday will mark the first step of the national sewing contest sponsored by Singer. The national contest will be held in New York City, exact date to be announced.

Tuesday morning, judges will award points for sewing construction. During the evening show, points will be awarded for fashion and fit. Awards for second and third place will also be made by the local store. Each girl participating in the contest will receive an achievement pin and certificate.

Sewing instructions were given by Miss Gertrude Schaffner and Miss Enid Goetichus of Hurley.

Those participating in the contest are as follows: Tweens—Linda Southard, Linda Phillips, Andrea Murphy, Lorraine McCann, Mary Anne Budny, Nancy McMillan, Dorothy

Junior League Will Sponsor Benefit Opera Performance

Provisional members of the Junior League of Kingston are presenting a benefit performance by the Turnau Opera Company of Woodstock on Tuesday, Sept. 1, Two short operas, "Trouble In Tahiti" by Leonard Bernstein and "Goodbye To The Clown" by Ezra Laderman will be performed.

Mr. Bernstein is also the composer of the score for the Broadway hit, "West Side Story". "Trouble In Tahiti" was written for and produced on television in 1952. It is a satire on married life in a typical American suburb and its production was acclaimed by critics throughout the country.

The second opera "Goodbye To The Clown" is being premiered this summer by Turnau players. Mr. Laderman, a summer resident of Woodstock, successfully introduced a full length opera at Turnau two seasons ago.

Proceeds of this performance will be used for the Christmas Stocking fund for needy children. Reservations may be made by contacting Turnau in Woodstock.

Shirley Ann Morrette Weds Robin R. Henion In Double Ring Ceremony on August 23 Here

On Sunday, Aug. 23 at 2 p. m. in the Fair Street Reformed Church, marriage vows were exchanged between Miss Shirley Ann Morrette and Robin Robert Henion.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marlin E. Morrette of 165 Wall Street, this city, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold V. Henion of Lucas Avenue extension, also this city.

The Rev. Wayne Olson, pastor of the Woodstock Reformed Church, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Baskets of white and pink flowers decorated the church for the occasion.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of embroidered silk organza fashioned with a fitted bodice, abbreviated sleeves and a scalloped neckline. The bouffant skirt was waist length. A bridal crown of starched lace and seed pearls held her French illusion veil. The bride carried a prayer book with a white orchid.

Miss Marilyn Curtis of Cincinnati, Ohio, the bride's cousin, served as her maid of honor. She wore a gown of open blue tulle styled with a fitted bodice and scooped neckline. The bouffant skirt was waist length and she wore a cloche of matching silken leaves with a tulle flir.

The bride and bridegroom were graduated from Kingston High School. Mrs. Henion is now attending the Mildred Elley Secretarial School in Albany. Her husband is employed as a systems engineer by IBM in Kingston.

For her wedding trip to the Thousand Islands, the bride wore a white sheath dress with a coral sash and white accessories and a white orchid corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Henion will be at home at 267 Washington Avenue, this city.

Port Ewen Corps Win Perth Amboy Meet on Saturday

The Colonial Cavaliers drum and bugle corps of Port Ewen added another trophy to its collection Saturday night by winning the Parade of Music drum corps competition at Perth Amboy, N. J.

They scored 80.9 points, with their closest rival Morristown (N. J.) Colonials garnering 78.3. Six corps competed in the first annual competition in that region.

Lambertville (N. J.) Volunteers finished first; Bordentown (N. J.) Devils, fourth; Bangor, (Pa.) Yellowjackets, fifth, and Bridgeport (Conn.) Troopers, last.

Walters Stadium was filled to capacity for the competition.

During the afternoon the Colonial Cavaliers and Colonial Cadets, junior corps paraded in the annual firemen's inspection parade in Middletown.

Saturday the junior corps will play at Columbia County Fair at Chatham.

The senior corps is competing Saturday against 17 other corps for the Yankee Circuit championship at Pittsfield, Mass.

Tipping An Electrologist

Dear Mrs. Post: I have a tipping problem and hope you can help me. I would like to know if I should tip the electrologist who is removing facial hair for me. This is a process which (in my case) has required regular quarter-hour appointments every two weeks for the past six months and will probably continue for another six months. The young woman who is doing the work is one of two qualified electrologists who are located in the beauty salon of a local department store. While not, strictly speaking, the manager of this service, she is the one who started the service for a national firm who owns and services the machines that she and the other woman operate. This firm pays her wages. It had never occurred to me to tip her as I've always looked upon these treatments as more medical than anything else, and I'd certainly never dream of tipping my physician or my dentist. However, since her conversation with me regarding her salary, and in view of the fact that she is surrounded by beauty shop personnel, maybe she does expect a tip. Is there any established rule on this subject?

Answer: This is a rather unusual situation, but I think you should tip the young woman who has been giving you the treatments, about twelve or fifteen per cent of your bill.

White Coats After Labor Day

Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to be married the week after Labor Day and the men in the wedding party would like to wear white coats with their tuxedo trousers. Would this be proper, or does Labor Day officially end the summer season?

Answer: Here in the North it will be too late for white coats. In our Southern states they would be proper even in winter.

Sending Flowers
Dear Mrs. Post: Is it not the correct thing to send a corsage or a small gift to a young girl's "coming out" party on receiving an invitation to it?

Answer: Only if you are an intimate friend of the girl's parents, a relative or a special boy friend of hers.

Mrs. Post offers readers leaflets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like to have her leaflet E-16, entitled, "Table Rules of Importance," send 10 cents in coin to Dept. E.P., care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail.

St. Gregory's Episcopal Church Is Scene Of Warner - Worthington Jr. Wedding

Miss Katharine Warner and James Lemuel Worthington Jr. were married on Saturday, Aug. 22 at 4 p. m. in St. Gregory's Episcopal Church, Woodstock.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy de Forest Warner, 2nd, of Washington, D. C. and Porto Alegre, Brazil, where Mr. Warner is now on assignment as Consul. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Charles Rosen of Woodstock and the late Charles Rosen.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Worthington of Houston, Texas.

Officiating at the ceremony was the Rev. William D. Jones, priest-in-charge. A wedding reception was given at the home of the bride's grandmother in Woodstock.

Mr. Warner gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a short gown of white lace over beige net with a matching veil of tulle over a bandeau of tulle. She carried her prayer book with an orchid and stephanotis.

Miss Suzanne Frazier of Washington, D. C. was maid of honor and the bride's only attendant.

Won't Paint Statue

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Capitol dome will be painted oyster white next month. But the Statue of Freedom, atop the dome, will stay green. The old girl has stood there for 96 years. And through the years she has acquired the coat of green, from contact between the copper in her bronze statue and the moist air. Capitol architects believe the patina will help protect the 19-foot figure from further oxidation.

181 Million Baby Item

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government spends more than 181 million dollars for aid to dependent children in cases where illegitimacy is the cause of the dependency, according to statistics compiled by the Library of Congress legislative reference service.

'Dracula' Thriller Opens at Phoenicia Playhouse Tuesday

The selection of plays at Phoenicia Playhouse this season has included Shakespeare, Shaw, even Miller. To wind up their season, the directors have chosen a play adapted from the famous novel by Bram Stoker, "Dracula."

The story deals with the living dead, vampires, and ageless creatures who sustain themselves by sucking blood from their victims each night.

One Lucy Seward, whose father is the doctor in charge of a sanatorium, has been attacked by some mysterious illness. Dr. Van Helsing, a specialist, believes the girl is the victim of a vampire and may well have been infected with the dreaded curse herself. At last Count Dracula is found out for what he is and destroyed by driving an oak stake through his heart.

The production promises blood, bats and screams of terror. This is truly a spine-chiller. It opens Tuesday night with curtain at 8:40 p. m.

Before you put away your summer jewelry, give it a light sudsing, dry it carefully on a thick terry towel and wrap it in folds of tissue paper. Then it's ready to store until you need it again.

matter of FACT

What became of Hangtown, Bedbug, Pizen Switch and other colorful mining towns of the Old West? Many of those settlements turned into ghost towns when the mines ran out. But others, such as the ones above, changed their names: Hangtown became Placerville, Calif. Bedbug was renamed Ione, Calif. And respectable Yerlington, Nev., was once known as Pizen Switch.

QUEEN'S PARTY IS HELD—Lovely Miss Judith VanGonsie, 17, of New Paltz, representing Kingston-Poughkeepsie-Newburgh in the State Fair Queen finals, is shown at Danny's Hide-a-way in New York City with other competing Queens and Danny Stradella, owner of the well-known celebrity center. The New York trip was part of a whirlwind trip for the 18 regional queens who the next day appeared before the judges. First came a meeting with Governor Rockefeller in Albany, then a flight via Mohawk to New York. They returned that same night and Friday morning Miss Carol Youmans of Schenectady was selected to reign over the State Fair, at Syracuse, Sept. 4-12.

School Officials Expect Heavy Pupil Enrollment

The administrative staff of the Kingston City Schools, consolidated, is making plans for a heavy pupil enrollment in grades seven and eight. Dr. Earl F. Soper, superintendent of schools, said today, "It is in grades seven and eight that we expect our heaviest enrollment pressure and our greatest number of problems."

Some 835 pupils are expected to register in grades seven and eight at the Myron J. Michael School. This includes all the eighth grade students in the consolidated district and some 250 seventh grade students. The remainder of the seventh grade will be housed at the George Washington School.

To accommodate all of these junior high school pupils at MJM, which is at its educational maximum when 600 pupils are enrolled, the superintendent said several administrative steps must be taken which generally are avoided by school administrators. First, homerooms of 35 pupils and classes well over 30 are being scheduled. Heavy class loads make teaching more difficult and each pupil received less individual attention. The state recommends classes of twenty-seven. It is best when they do not exceed 30. Secondly, it will be necessary to schedule homerooms and hold regular classes in rooms designed for special subjects, or activities. At MJM the two art rooms and cafeteria (13 classes) will be used to accommodate the overflow enrollments.

At the George Washington School seventh grade homerooms will approximate 36 while classes will run over 30. At this school special classrooms will be required for homerooms and regular classes. The principal has scheduled classes in the music room, library, vocational shop and cafeteria. The vocal music class will meet on the auditorium stage.

Construction Delayed

Dr. Soper commented that it was "most regrettable" that the Board of Education has been forced to delay the construction of the Dietz Stadium Junior High School. At present the common council and mayor have refused the Board's request for title to a portion of Dietz Stadium for the construction of the school and the question is in litigation. Time lost in the construction of junior high school facilities, so urgently needed, may mean more stringent methods will be considered for school opening another year, the superintendent stated. Dr. Soper said this included the examination of "double sessions" for one or both grades at the seventh and eighth grade levels.

Work Progresses

The auditorium addition is rapidly being completed and will be ready for use at the beginning of the school year this September. The withdrawal of ninth grade students, some fifty in number, from the Rondout Central School (Marbletown) will help alleviate enrollment pressure. These students will be accommodated in the home district this September. However, some 2100 pupils are expected at Kingston High School, grades nine through twelve. This exceeds the educational maximum of 1,800, established by the New York State Education Department, by 300 students. Dr. Soper noted that the construction of the Dietz Stadium Junior High School would also help alleviate pressure at the high school level, since it is planned to house the ninth grade high when constructed.

Dramatic Play Is Woodstock's Last Offering for Season

The outstanding phenomenon of this season's theatre world was the Japanese influence. The Woodstock Playhouse is devoting the last week of its season to the recognition of this fact by presenting the effective and moving drama "Kataki" beginning Tuesday Sept. 1st.

"Kataki" which means "the enemy" in Japanese, deals with a young GI from a small Missouri town who has bailed out from a bomber and is alone on a Pacific islet with the enemy, a much older single Japanese soldier. The two discover each other to their mutual shock. How, despite their suspicions and lack of common language they finally manage to build a frail bridge of comradeship between them is the substance of the play.

"Kataki" is good throughout drama and affords an unusual opportunity for fine acting performances. The Japanese role which is played by Stanley Schneider is one in which he speaks but little and then in Japanese save for a word or two in English. He must succeed in drawing a full length portrait of enormous understanding and appeal by way of gesture and pantomime. Rattling around against the language barrier is the young GI played by Wayne Maxwell who has given such fine performances during the earlier part of this season. He is lonely, easily irritated and a bit of a braggart and sensual. His struggle to break through to his enemy who must be his friend, is fascinating to behold.

"Kataki" is one of the most unusual plays ever presented at the Woodstock Playhouse. It promises to weave a hypnotic spell over the audience and the spectator will not easily shake off the evening's strange emotions. When only one of the characters talks and the other one simply thinks, it is astonishing how interesting mere thought can really be.

The last performance of "Kataki" on Sept. 6 will mark the end of the 22nd season of the Playhouse.

New School Year

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet higher education institutions begin a new school year Tuesday with 470,000 new enrollments, the Soviet news agency Tass said today. About one million students now study through some 300 correspondence schools.

Goals Exceeded

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Nikita Khrushchev says production goals set in the Soviet Union's new seven-year plan have been exceeded in the first seven months of 1959.

Khrushchev told a crowd in the village of Veshenskaya, near Rostov, that industrial production program has been fulfilled 105 per cent.

The Mature Parent

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Lack of Self-Trust Often Real Cause of Failures

She's divorced, the working mother of two small boys. They share her parents' apartment. Her problem is the neighbors. They want quiet. But noise is often the consequence of saying "no" to healthy youngsters.

She writes: "My kids won't listen to me because they know I don't dare start anything that might disturb the neighbors. Yet my mother is always at me to make them do as they're told. . . . Maybe, dear reader, it's not your neighbors who want the quiet. Maybe it's your mother who wants it; and asks you to consider the neighbors just she appears to be unhelpful and want consideration for herself."

Have you ever thought of living alone with your boys? Let's assume you've just told me all the reasons why you can't. You need someone to supervise the boys while you work. You can't find a place, etc., etc. Now let's look at what may be the real one.

A marriage failure can leave us with a fear of failing as mothers as we've failed as wives. It can be such a deep fear that we don't want to know about it. So it can manipulate us without our being aware of it.

With this secret fear driving us, we will return to our parents' homes, not for any of the reasons we think we do but because we don't trust ourselves as mothers. The mother we trust is our own mother, and just as we used to run to her to zip up the dress we thought we couldn't zip ourselves, we now run to her to train the children we think we can't train ourselves.

Does what I've said frighten you? If so, just let things rest as they are.

But while they're resting as they are, think occasionally about the meaning of what you've written to me.

You want your boys to "listen" to you. Well, you couldn't want that without some conviction that you're worth listening to. Let's let the conviction grow. As you become surer that what you have to say to your boys rates their attention, you'll find yourself able to consider the idea of becoming their only mother.

The day respect for your own homemaking competence equals your respect for your mother's competence, you'll be able to walk out of her house and find the one that belongs to you. (All rights reserved NEA Service, Inc.)

Siamese Twins Born Dead

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Siamese twin girls were born dead Sunday to Mr. and Mrs. Statuel Harris at Methodist Hospital here.

The twins were born face to face with their bodies joined at the breast bone.

Mrs. Harris, 40, was reported doing well. She and her husband, a Dallas City bus driver, have eight other children.

Trinidad, in the West Indies, was named by Columbus in 1498 for the Holy Trinity.

New Palts News

Lions Plan Day For Park Fund Saturday, Sept. 5

NEW PALTZ—The New Palts Lions Club has announced plans for a day of entertainment and sport to be held at the Mike Moriello Park, for the benefit of the Park Fund, on Sat., Sept. 5, from 3 p. m. until 11 p. m.

A midway and booths will give the park a carnival aspect and various programs of entertainment will take place during the afternoon and evening. There will be no admission charge.

The water ballet group, under the direction of William Black, chairman of Water Safety for Dutchess County, will be presented in the afternoon and will feature four numbers. Participating in the synchronized swimming group will be Pat Lukens, Marlene Erett, and Nancy Faircloth in "Making Whoopee"; Cynthia Watson, Betsy Watson, Marie Van Wagner, Betty Lee Ballinger and Parmele Vanderpool in "I've Told Every Little Star"; a solo number by Susan Kovacs, to the tune of "Little Brown Jug"; and a demonstration of water ballet strokes by the entire group. All members of the water ballet group are qualified senior life savers and instructors.

Participating in the water contest, canoe tilting and burling, will be local area residents.

In the evening, New Palts' own will put on a program of Indian dances. Although recognized by no tribe and known by many new Paltsers, these children will perform tribal and other Indian dances resulting from their own individual interest in Indian lore and willingness to practice.

General Chairman, Francis Connolly, with the club's board of directors and the entire membership of the Lions Club taking part, the club hopes to make this a red letter day.

In the event of rain Saturday, Sept. 5, the program will be held the following Saturday.

Times Changed For Constables

The Town Board at its regular meeting recently, announced that the constables' times have been changed and they will be on duty at any hour deemed necessary.

A letter was read from the Ulster County Extension Service thanking the board for having the constables patrol around the 4-H camp this summer.

Justice John Tenaglia suggested that a chief constable be appointed to take care of paper work and scheduling of hours. The board appointed Constable Robert DuBois for this task.

Supervisor Richard Lent announced that private telephones would soon be installed in the constables' homes. The number to be published as soon as it is learned.

A motion was made and passed to award the contract for building the sidewalk along Route 299 to Benjamin Lombardi, his bid being $2,875. This will be subject to the correct bond and to have certificates of insurance issued to the town.

The board is planning to inspect the collection of old town records. They feel these records should be kept in a safer location or at the library. Members discussed the possibility of finding some one capable of sorting through these papers and determine which is valuable and which can be disposed of. It is hoped some citizen can devote the necessary time and effort to this cause, for there are a great many documents of historical value which may be an asset in the future.

A letter was read from William Heider, treasurer of the Elting Memorial Library, requesting that more money be allowed in next year's budget due to the fact that the library will need to pay a librarian $4,600 next year, by law, or lose its charter. Various fund raising activities were suggested in order to meet the budget. This matter will be discussed thoroughly with the library board at the time of the budget discussion.

Supervisor Lent reported on a talk given by Miss Hilda Smith of Albany at the Board of Supervisors meeting. Miss Smith is active in the senior citizens program. Lent summarized the talk so that the members would know what an organization could do for older people if there was enough interest in it in the community. This program would be similar to the Youth Programs, but activities would be of interest to the senior members of the town.

Members of the board present, in addition to those mentioned, were Councilman Robert Elting and Frank Van Gonsic, Justice of the Peace Irving C. Barnes, and Town Clerk Peter Savago. Also present were Peter Harp, Town Superintendent of Highways Isaac Pole, Thomas McKinney and Albert Kerr.

R. A. Davis Organist At Brooklyn Church

Richard Allen Davis has assumed the position of Organist-Choirmaster at the Lutheran Church of the Incarnation, in Bay Ridge, Brooklyn. He has held a similar position for two years at the Grace Lutheran Church, Bronx.

He attended college here as well as the New York College of Music where he studied organ with Warner Hawkins. Other teachers include Ernest White, Clare Coci, and John Huston. Davis also is assistant organist at Grand Central Station in New York. He appears at the "Grand Organ" daily from the middle of November until New Year's Day, and from Palm Sunday until Mothers Day.

Former churches he has served include St. John's Episcopal Church in Kingston; First Presbyterian Church, Oceanside, L. I., and the Pilgrim's Church of the Bronx.

His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Davis who reside at 75 Main Street.

GOP Club Hears Duties of Two

The members of the Republican Club, at their recent meeting, were given a lucid picture of the duties of the supervisor and Justice of the Peace by Richard Lent and John Tenaglia, respectively.

Lent said that as Supervisor he acts in an administrative capacity. He is responsible for all town monies and must account to and make reports to the Town Board, pay salaries and deposit and disperse money as he is directed to do by the Town Board. Tenaglia outlined the duties of the Justice of the Peace with excellent charts. The first chart showed the three areas in which the Justice functions — legislative, administrative, and judicial.

Both Lent and Tenaglia answered questions for the group and those present left with a better understanding of the responsibilities of these two offices.

The date for the annual Republican picnic was set for Sept. 27 at the farm of Fred DuBois.

Thomas McKinney, president, introduced John E. Schultz of Rosendale to the club. Schultz said that he is seeking the nomination as a candidate on the Republican ticket for Supervisor of the Town of Rosendale.

The next meeting of the club will be held Sept. 10, in the municipal building. At this meeting Isaac Pole and Frank Van Gonsic will discuss the duties of their offices as highway superintendent and town councilman.

Legislator Quits In Legion Ban

NEW YORK (AP)—Another Negro legislator has resigned from the American Legion in protest over the Legion's refusal to drop the color bar in its funmaking society—the 40 & 8.

The society takes its name from the alleged capacity of a World War I French box car, 40 men and 8 horses. The Legion itself has no such membership clause.

State Sen. James L. Watson, a Harlem Democrat, announced his resignation from the Legion last night.

U. S. Rep. Charles C. Diggs Jr. (D-Mich.) resigned Friday over what he termed "a shocking demonstration of intolerance." He referred to the action of the Legion's national convention in Minneapolis, which last Wednesday voted down a proposal to permit voluntary racial integration in local units of the 40 & 8.

Watson resigned in a letter to the Legion's new commander, Martin B. McKneally, of Newburgh, N. Y., in which he wrote that Legion members were "turning their backs on heroes of the past wars."

As a three time Purple Heart winner with the 92d Infantry Division in Italy during World War II, said Watson, "I feel this affects me personally, and I can no longer support the organization."

Another Legion member, U. S. Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-N.Y.), who is white, said he will remain in the Legion and fight from the inside what he termed the funmaking society's policy of racial intolerance.

AERIAL WATCHDOG—A bolt from the blue may strike motorists on the Kansas Turnpike who think the road's 80-m.p.h. speed limit is too low. State police, flying the Cessna 182 above, have nabbed 117 violators through July of this year—one-fifth of the total of speeding arrests. All have been upheld in court. Mile markers on the highway, plus a stop watch in the plane, enable troopers to accurately clock the speed of a car some 1,000 feet below them. When a speeder is identified, a radio message alerts a highway patrol car, which issues the ticket. Kansas' air-and-ground campaign has pushed speeding several steps down on the list of causes of turnpike accidents.

Asthma and Hay Fever Relief Comes in Minutes ...and Lasts For Hours

Tiny Tablet Now Available Without Prescription!

New York, N. Y. (Special)—Medical Science has developed a new, tiny tablet that not only stops asthma spasms but brings relief to those who suffer from hay fever attacks. Authoritative tests proved this remarkable compound brings relief in minutes—and gives hours of freedom from recurrence of painful spasms.

This fast-acting formula is prescribed by doctors for their private patients who suffer from asthma or hay fever. And now sufferers can obtain this formula—without prescription—in tiny, easy-to-take tablets called Primatene.

Primatene opens bronchial tubes, loosens mucous congestion, relieves nasal passages. All this without taking painful injections and without the inconvenience of nebulizers. The secret is—Primatene combines 3 medicines (in full prescription strength) found most effective in combination for asthma and hay fever distress.

So look forward to sleep at night and freedom from asthma or hay fever spasms...get Primatene, at any drugstore. Only 98¢—money-back guarantee. © 1957 Whitehall Pharmaceutical Company

MONEY-MANAGEMENT POLICIES

Several years ago a humanitarian organization inherited a substantial amount of money. A finance committee was appointed to manage it. Meetings were held to discuss money-management policies. It was finally voted to invest 60 per cent of the money in sound common stocks and 40 per cent in U. S. Government and other high-quality bonds.

This policy was put in writing and members of the committee firmly resolved to adhere to it regardless of what happened along inflationary lines in the national economy. Two months ago a review was made of the management plan and its lack of success was sharply defined.

The 60-40 relationship was warped out of shape, and if this ratio of stock and bond values were to be maintained, a lot of equities would have to be sold and a raft of bonds bought. The committee has had several meetings to discuss this dilemma.

The stocks have appreciated more than 200 per cent and the bonds have depreciated 20 per cent on the average. As a result, the money ratio stands at 88 per cent in stocks and only 12 per cent in bonds. Several committee members favor selling stocks and buying bonds but the chairman is dead set against such action.

In the very beginning the chairman was opposed to a rigid money-management policy. His convictions have proved correct. If the committee votes against his will to sell sound common stocks, he will probably resign. And that would be unfortunate because he is the ablest money man on the committee.

This circumstance points up two important facts: (1) committees and boards of management responsible for the investment of money should not be tied down by too restricted policies, and (2) individuals should also gear their investment holdings to the prevalent economic conditions of the country.

The finance committee of this humanitarian society is faced with another important decision. More money has just been inherited and the committee is having capital-management meetings. With sound bonds yielding more than sound stocks and with the necessity of getting good income from the funds, the committee is about to take on a portfolio of U. S. Government, railroad and industrial dollar obligations that afford an annual return of around 5 per cent.

If, in 1960-1961, money gets cheap again and these bonds go to face value while common stocks once again sell to yield good returns, it is probable that bonds will be sold and stocks bought.

Individuals might follow such a policy. There is no denying that common stock prices are high and bond prices low. I think great disparities presently exist in the stock and bond markets.

I do not favor selling sound equities at large profits, paying big capital gains taxes and investing what is left in bonds. But I do favor buying sound bonds at large discounts with new money. Such investments may be short-term—for from one to five years.

Into the indefinite future all investors and capital managers should employ flexible money-management policies. In this way capital has a chance to conform to the national economic conditions.

THE FORUM

(Q) "Our Home cares for 100 elderly persons. How should we invest $50,000 we have just received at around 5 per cent?"

The Committee. (A) Split your fund into about seven parts. Buy, at discount, $10,000 U. S. bonds yielding 4½ per cent, $20,000 rail, industrial and utility bonds, yielding more than 5 per cent, $20,000 good grade preferred and common stocks yielding 5 per cent or more. Then manage them.

Like Punching Time Clock

Communists Won't Let U.S. Forget Plan to Take World

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Every once in a while, as if Communists were punching a time clock, this country gets a jolt, a reminder that communism is a revolutionary movement which intends taking over the world.

The United States is getting two jolts now: Communist guerrillas are attacking little, almost defenseless Laos. Red Chinese have shot their way across the Indian frontier, after savagely devouring Tibet.

Last year the Red Chinese banged away at Formosa. They had tried to help the North Korean Reds take South Korea. They succeeded in helping the Communists of Indochina take over half that country.

It seems incredible to this writer, judging from the nature of communism and the performance of Red China, that it will ever cease trying to take over every country of Asia, the soft touches first, the bigger ones later.

Won't Have to Shoot Always

Red China has moved so far mostly by direct, or indirect, military aggression. But it doesn't have to shoot its way in every time. It can use infiltration, internal subversion, economic pressure, threats.

The Soviet Union has been more exposed than Red China to immediate atomic attack if it got too brazen. So it has been less crude, less daring.

After the Soviet Union seized Czechoslovakia in 1948 through internal subversion and frightened the West into forming its North Atlantic Treaty Alliance, it has tried to move by pressure, infiltration, threats and economic penetration.

Because communism up to now has nipped at its neighbors a bite at a time and then sat back, waiting for the noise to dwindle, it is easy for the Western world, so long as it lives on hope, to think things may settle down.

Lessons Forgotten

They never have and it is questionable they will—for a long time. The Western world considered Hitler a windbag when he openly revealed his dreams of conquest. But lessons get forgotten.

The West does not seem unduly excited by Premier Nikita Khrushchev's warning that communism will bury the non-Communist world, even though he suggests the funeral services will be conducted by economics.

Time is the greatest narcotic communism has for trying to stupefy the west into hope and even relaxation. Communism, convinced it will win the world, is willing to take its time at the gambling table. Khrushchev has said so.

Likely Only Temporary

The whole western world will hope, but keep its fingers crossed, when President Eisenhower and Khrushchev sit down together in mid-September to talk peace. Maybe they will even reach some peaceful understandings. It is doubtful whatever they achieve will be more than a temporary peace.

By the same token, of course, the West with its military alliances and its economic help is doing much, if not its utmost, to keep the rest of the world non-Communist.

Talks with Khrushchev will hardly change that. So the most it seems reasonable to expect is a truce.

Out of all this perhaps the only comfort the West can find is that Khrushchev may be deeply worried about the growing strength and ambitions of his ally, Red China. There was a time, before the communists took over China, and showed their own strong will, that the Soviet Union may have hoped to rule the world. Not now. In the end, Red China may become the Soviet Union's greatest enemy.

The world hasn't reached the stage yet where the spirit of communism in any country is greater than the spirit of nationalism. Until it does, there can be no peace even for Communists in a Communist world.

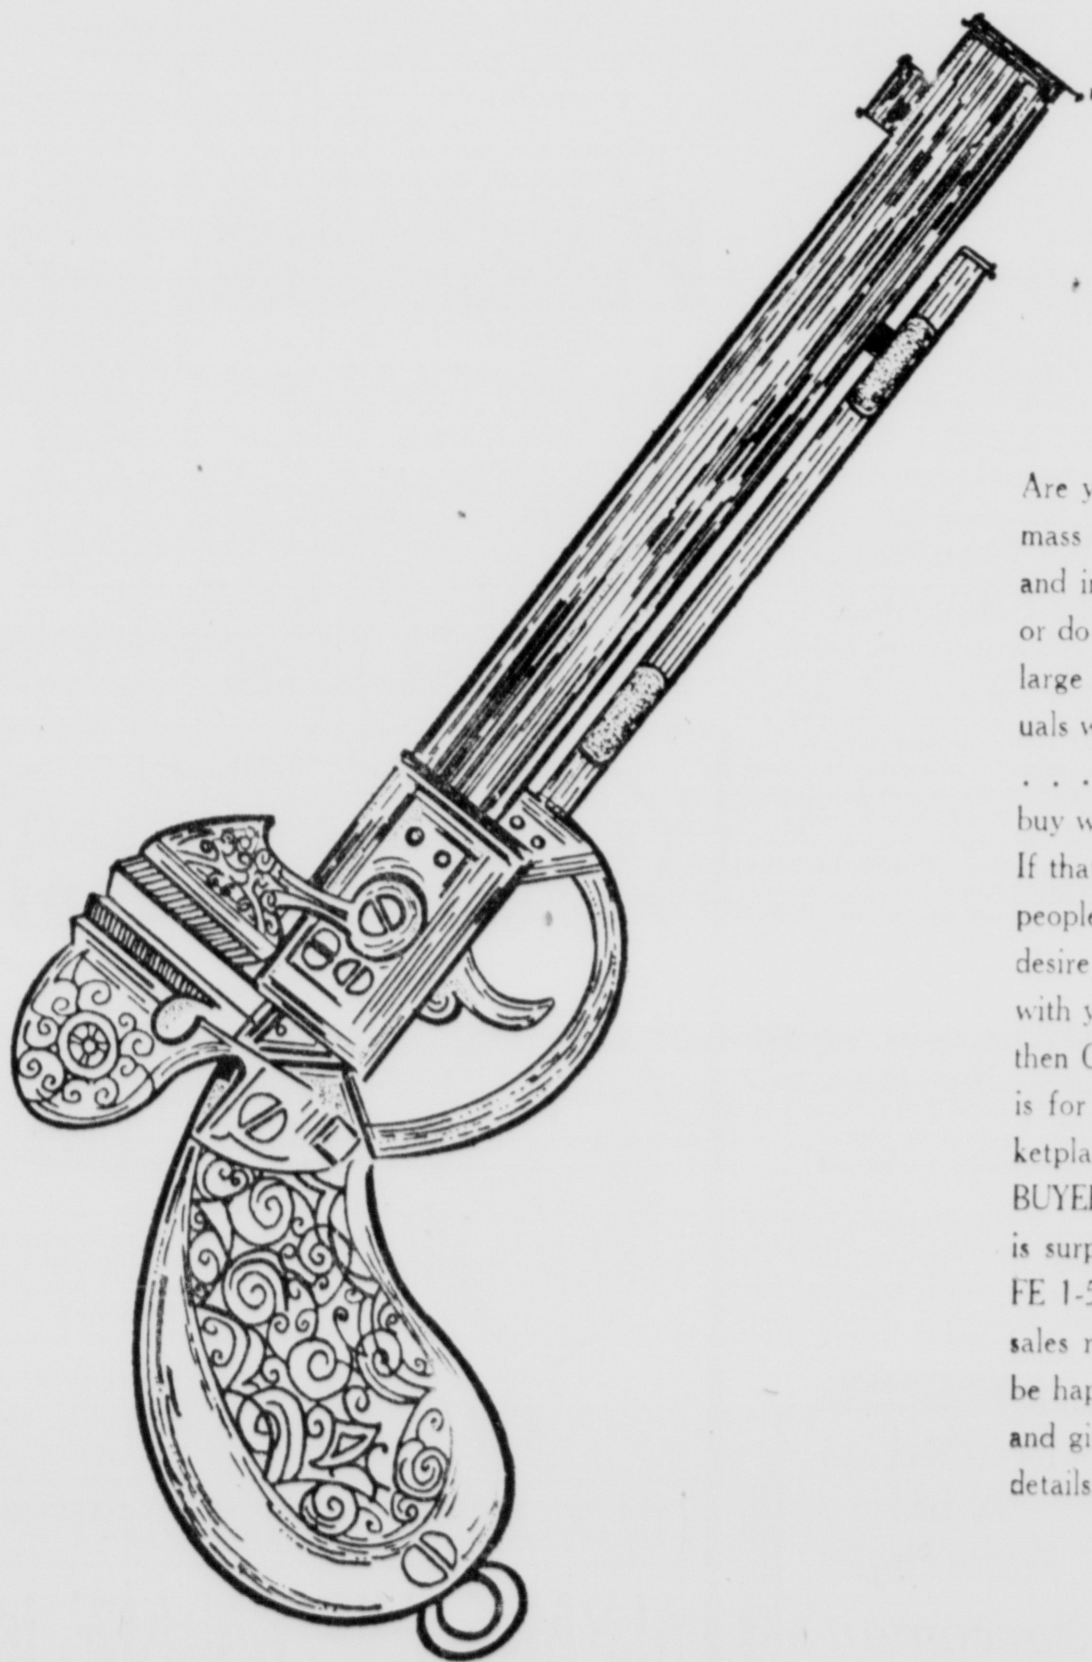

One reminder of the reality of communism—the long struggle ahead—came over the weekend from the Senate's Foreign Relations Committee which released a report from one of the private research groups it has hired to study the various aspects and problems of American foreign policy.

This group warned: "The fundamental force which dominates our foreign policy problems is the determined, relentless intention of the Soviet Union to control the world. It is important the United States realize this is not an idle threat."

Woodstock Ace Defeats De Witt For Sixth Crown

Youth and the searing heat combined to thwart Floyd De Witt's bid for the Woodstock Country Club title Saturday, when defending champion Bill Van Aken downed the local Cadillac dealer, 9 and 8, in the 36-hole final.

De Witt, a strong match game competitor, stayed within 4 holes of his younger opponent in the morning round, but fatigue and the heat ganged up on him the third time around and he soared to a 43.

Van Aken stayed close to the card in nailing down his sixth Woodstock title in the last seven years. He matched par figures with nine of 34-36 in the morning round and carded a one over par 36 on the third swing around the village links. De Witt posted 38-39-77 in the morning.

What may have been an early turning point in the match occurred on the par 5 fifth hole. De Witt, shorter than Van Aken off the tee, slammed his second shot to the fringe of the green, about 25 feet from the pin. Van Aken was about 30 yards short of the cup on his second shot.

Eagle From 30 Yards

Then came the dramatic moment. Van Aken's pitch and run 9-iron shot hit just inside De Witt's shot, straightened out on the green and rolled into the cup for the eagle. De Witt did not give up without a try. His chip shot nicked the side of the cup and rolled off less than an inch. He had lost the hole with a birdie!

The ninth hole was De Witt's nemesis. He had two bogie 4s and a triple bogie 6 on the par 3 hole. Van Aken bogied the first hole twice.

After halving the first two holes in the afternoon round, De Witt drove a ball out of bounds on the third hole to take a seven and lost the next three holes 4-6-4 to Van Aken's 3-5-3. The cards:

(Morning Round)
Par out 444 354 443-35
Van Aken out 544 334 443-34
De Witt out 444 544 544-38
Par in 444 354 443-35
Van Aken in 444 355 443-36
De Witt in .. 534 364 446-39

Van Aken (70) leads De Witt (77) 4 up.

(Afternoon Round)
Par out 444 354 443-35
Van Aken out 544 353 444-36
De Witt out 457 464 544-43

28th hole, Van Aken 4, De Witt 4; Van Aken wins, 9 and 8.

Walker Resigns As Toronto Head

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Toronto Maple Leafs, apparently destined to be the 1959 International League cellar dwellers, begin the final week of the season under a new manager today.

Coach Lou Kahn took over Sunday night after Dixie Walker, who headed the Leafs since 1957, resigned following his team's doubleheader split with Montreal. The Leafs dropped the opener 4-3 and took the second game 1-0.

The split kept them in the IL cellar, 18½ games behind league-leading Buffalo Bisons and four games behind seventh-place Miami.

The Bisons reduced their magic number to two Sunday with an 11-1, 8-2 doubleheader sweep of Rochester, while Columbus edged into second place, a half game ahead of the Havana Sugar Kings with a 2-0 victory. Any combination of two Buffalo victories or Columbus losses equalling two gave the Bisons the IL title.

Richmond edged Miami 2-1 in 10 innings on Jim Pisoni's home run in the other IL game.

Walker's announcement caught everyone by surprise but he told reporters later, "I'm not leaving anyone in the lurch, the team has no place to go."

He won the IL title in 1957 and was second last year.

'Go-Go' Sox Bury Indians

Cop Doubleheader To Sweep Series; Now Lead by 5½

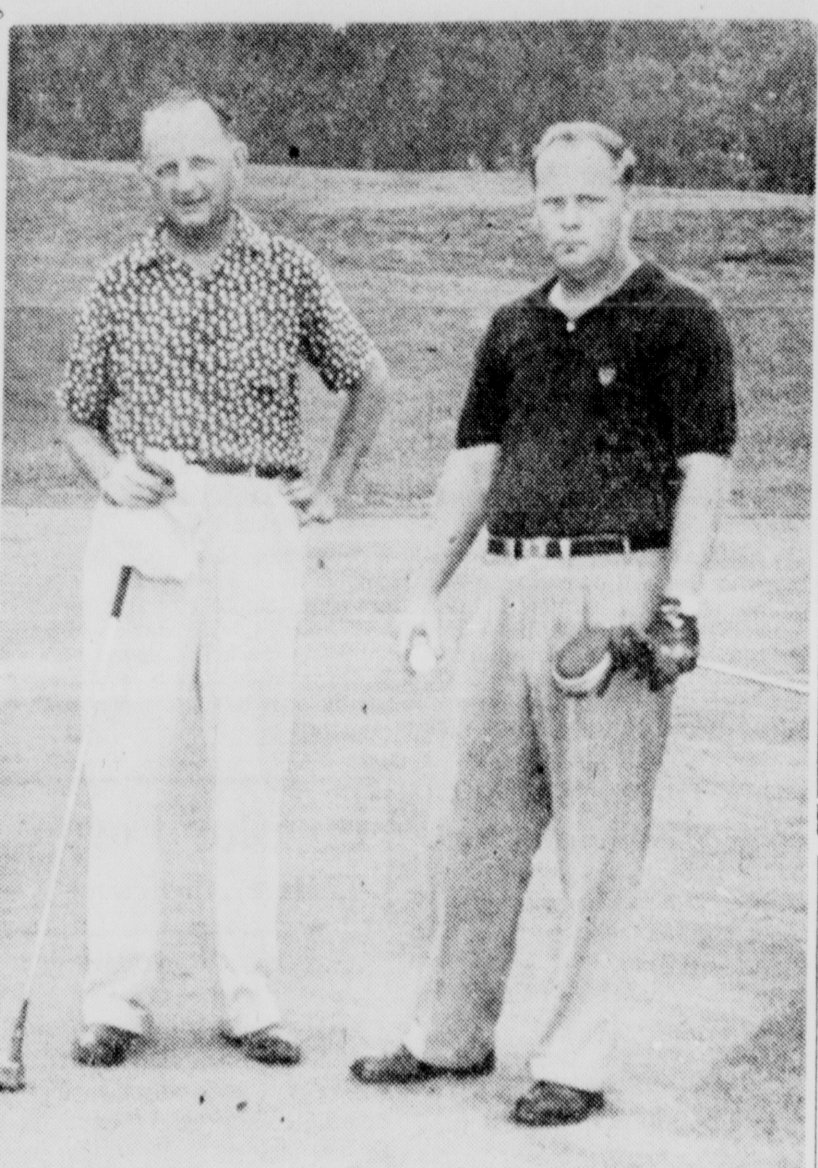

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Chicago's amazing "go-go" White Sox boasted their biggest lead of the season today — 5½ games — after having virtually shattered Cleveland's pennant hopes with a sweep of their vital four-game series.

Al Lopez' pennant-bound club humbled the Indians twice Sunday 6-3 and 9-4 to give a Cleveland crowd of 66,386 little to cheer about.

Detroit took undisputed possession of third place, one game ahead of New York, by shutting out Kansas City 4-0 while Washington was trimming the Yankees 3-1. Boston blanked Baltimore 3-0.

Frisco Messenger Cops Feature at Monticello

Frisco Messenger, a 9-year-old bay gelding guided by Louis Filer, captured the featured Pennsylvania Trot, a $2,500 invitational at Monticello Raceway Saturday night.

An outsider in the public wagering, Frisco came on with a rush at the wire, nipping Tidy Sister to pay $25.70.

In the co-featured pace, the Rheingold, William Popfinger scored his second win of the night by coming on like an express train the last 100 yards with Arro. He had been overlooked by the bettors and went off at 16-1 to pay $36.10.

Arro came from the eight post and finished a half head in front of favored Sunation. The victory earned Popfinger a presentation from all six of the beauties entered in the Miss Rheingold contest.

Electrical storms that swept the area held down the crowd to 8,461. However the track received only enough rain to put it in top condition. The betting machines were well conditioned too. The handle was a nifty $388,136. The daily double players received a good return. Jarrettown Anne and Alljay combined for a 1-6 double that returned $71.60.

The results:

Costly Alloy
A nickel-chromium-iron alloy, used in making hairsprings of watches, costs about $50,000 a pound—100 times the cost of gold.

Don Mossi hurled a three-hit shutout for the Tigers and hit his first major league home run as he struck out eight Kansas City batters for his 12th victory. Bud Daley, in his third unsuccessful bid for his 16th victory, was charged with his ninth defeat.

Shutout Pitcher
Frank Sullivan pitched a four-hit shutout as Boston swept the three-game series with Baltimore. Gene Stephens homered for the Red Sox. Boston's two other runs came on passed balls by Gas Triandos. The Baltimore catcher, unable to cope with Hoyt Wilhelm's knuckleball, was charged with four passed balls, equalling a major league record.

Rookie outfielder Bob Allison smashed his 29th home run and Jim Lemon drove in Washington's other two runs with a single to give Russ Kemmerer his eighth victory. Kemmerer and Tex Clevenger combined to hold the Yankees to five hits including a ninth inning home run by Hector Lopez.

Twaalfskill Star Trounces Raichle On Sub Par Golf

George Hughes became the first player in The Twaalfskill Club history to capture six club titles Sunday, when he defeated Clarence (Dubby) Raichle, 9 and 8, with a brilliant display of sub-par golf in the 36-hole championship finals.

Hughes fired a 3-under-par 67 to gain a six hole lead with nines of 33-34 in the morning action, then launched the afternoon round with another 33 to put Raichle dormie 9 at the end of 27 holes.

The match ended when both players got down in par 4s on the 28th hole. Until Sunday, Hughes had shared with Alvin Boice the club record of five individual championships. Boice, the 1958 titlist, was beaten by Raichle in the semifinals this year.

Hughes was 5 under par for the 28 holes, posting an eagle 3 on the 16th hole and bagging birdies on the 7th, 15th, 19th and 25th holes. Although he played consistently good golf, Raichle was able to garner birdies on only two holes—the 7th and 22nd.

Losers Posts 74

Raichle trailed by six holes at the end of the morning round, despite a 38-36-74.

The champion hiked his lead to eight holes by launching the afternoon round 3-3-3, while Raichle bogied the 21st. A birdie 3 on the 22nd hole enabled Raichle to salvage a hole. They halved the next two, but Hughes birdied the 25th where Raichle needed a par 5 and got his par 4 on the 27th to go nine up as Raichle slipped one over.

The cards:

Par out 433 453 544-35

Littler Shows Good Putting To Win Tourney

By DAVE O'HARA

Associated Press Sports Writer
MILWAUKEE (AP)—Gene Littler, a veteran of six years on pro golf's tournament grind, had another big prize check for his banker today because of a red-hot putter.

"It's the best putting I've ever done for four straight days in a tournament," the 29-year-old Californian said Sunday after picking up $5,300 by winning the $35,000 Milwaukee Open.

Littler entered the final 18 holes three strokes off the pace despite fine rounds of 68, 66 and 64 on the 6,355-yard Tropicana Golf Club course, but didn't let the deficit bother him.

He blazed home with a 67 and 72-hole total of 260, outstriking better than Bob Rosburg, Bo Wininger and Ted Kroil, who had to settle for a tie for second.

And Littler's putter came through on the final hole for the victory. He sank a six-foot putt calmly for a birdie after a fine approach shot.

"Don't ever let it be said that golf pros aren't a bunch of nice guys," Littler told galleries. "They knew I had just moved into a new house (in La Jolla) and that I needed some furniture for it. They said, 'go ahead and take the first money' so I did."

Winner, the 54-hole leader with 195, lost his putting touch and soared to a 71. Rosburg carded a 4-under-par 66 but missed a 20-foot putt for a birdie and a tie on the last green. Kroil canned a 45-footer from a trap for a birdie and a share of the runnerup money.

Paltz Gun Club Gets Fifth Win

The New Paltz Rod and Gun Club won their fifth victory over Lasher's Hobby Shoppers recently with a team total of 985 to Lasher's Hobby Shoppers 982.

Top-ranking shooter Dave Barr drilled out a 198 and teammate Joe Arias added a 197 to the Hobby Shop record, which was not quite enough to take the match.

Team shooting scores were: Lou Chika, 199; Ralph Martin, 199; Rod Jones, 197; Abe Paradises, 196; Jack Erne, 194 for Rod and Gun, while the Hobby Shoppers rated Dave Barr, 198; Joe Arias, 197; Ted Lasher, 196; Jim Rizner, 196 and Ron Tosti, 195.

In District 15 Finals Valatie LL Nine Tops Glasco-EK Tossers, 6-5

Valatie Little Leaguers scored six runs in the first inning then staggered to a 6-5 victory over the Glasco-East Kingston Little League All Stars to qualify for the District 15 finals against Hudson.

The Columbia County tossers routed Frank Serravallo in the first inning, when Grant's home run climaxed a six-run outburst. Dom Berardi blanked the winners on three hits the rest of the way.

Dan Davis went the route for Valatie, giving up five hits and striking out 9.

Walks Hurt Losers
After Doug Davis and Czajkowski singled in the first inning, Serravallo issued four straight walks before Grant unloaded his home run.

Glasco-EK picked up two runs in the second on Fiore's single, a fielder's choice and a series of wild throws. Serravallo knocked in two runs with a single in the fifth, after P. Guido and Aiello reached first on errors.

Singles by S. Guido and P. Guido accounted for Glasco's final tally in the sixth.

Davis Cup Final Set Today at Forest Hills

By ED CORRIGAN

Associated Press Sports Writer
FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — America's Barry MacKay tackles left-handed Australian Neale Fraser today in a continuation of their final singles battle to decide where the Davis Cup will reside for the next year.

Darkness halted their match Sunday after two sets. Fraser had won the first, 8-6 and MacKay the second, 6-3.

Alex Onmedo had put the United States back in the running for the cup with a 9-7, 4-6, 10-8, 12-10 victory in the opening singles match. "The delay doesn't mean a thing to me," said MacKay.

"Couldn't mean less," observed Fraser. "We'll win it," chirped U.S. Captain Perry Jones, 71, an incurable optimist.

Both Are Confident

"I don't think it will make any difference to either of the boys," he said. "But I'll tell you one thing — MacKay won't be missing those high volleys today."

Australian Captain Harry Hopman is certain Fraser will win. "Neale can't possibly serve any worse than he did in those first two sets against Barry. If he improves, as I know he will, then he'll win the match."

As for Onmedo, he was both good and bad. Young Rod Laver, a red-haired lefty, had Alex on the ropes time and time again, but permitted him to wiggle off. Laver had two set points in the first set, five more before he was able to win the second set, three in the third and one in the fourth.

"With another year of experience, Rod would have won the match," mused Hopman. "But Alex got the points when he needed them and that's what an experienced player will do. Still, he wasn't at his best."

Leon Randall Retains Crown; Braves Edge Stewart AFB, 2-1

24-Hole Run Par Golf Turns Back Leininger, 4 and 3

Leon Randall has captured his third straight Wiltywek Country Club championship by staging another of his patented come-from-behind victories, this one a 4 and 3 triumph over Henry (Bud) Leininger in Sunday's 36-hole finals.

Randall gained the finals Saturday by ousting Charles J. Turk, 4 and 3, after taking an early 5-hole lead. Leininger staged a fine comeback victory in the other semi-final, rallying from a 4 down deficit to Harry Bostic after 11 holes to win up, as Bostic was guilty of five straight bogies.

The Randall-Leininger finals was a tremendous see-saw affair through the first 27 holes and it was not until that point that Randall took the lead for keeps. Leininger carded nines of 38-36 for a 74 and a 2-hole lead at the end of the morning round. Randall posted a 39-36-75.

In the afternoon round, Leininger took the 19th hole with a par 4, but this proved to be his last winning effort until the 13th. Turning on the pressure for which he is noted, Randall fired 1 under par golf from that point to the finish and it was just too much for the game contender.

Two Spectacular Birdies
Randall won the 2nd, 3rd and 7th to square the match and his par on the treacherous ninth put him in front to stay. Pars on the 10th and 12th swelled his lead to 3 holes. Leininger took the 13th with a par when Randall's drive found the rough, but Randall squelched any hope of a Leininger comeback by posting two spectacular birdies on the 14th and 15th.

The champion lofted a soft pitch shot from about 20 yards which hit the apron perfectly and curled across toward the cup, barely falling in as it lost momentum. On the 15th both players hit the green, but far short of the pin. Leininger, 50 feet away, approached to within three feet. Randall then stroked his 45 footer squarely into the cup to win the title in a truly spectacular fashion.

From a spectator standpoint the match was tremendous. The two battled back and forth throughout the day, with only 11 of the 33 holes being halved. After a so-so 39 on the front side, Randall was even par for the last 24 holes. Leininger had a one stroke advantage on the first 18 with a fine 74, but his 42 on the third nine was his downfall.

The cards:

Locals Clinch Second Place In NY-NJ Loop

Bob Maines and the Kingston Braves closed their New York-New Jersey Baseball League season on a successful note at Stewart Air Force Base Saturday by nipping the Jets, 2-1, in a contest that was halted in the sixth inning because of rain. The locals had two runs in and the bases loaded when the down-pour came.

The win gave the Braves an 11-3 league record. Losses were to Poughkeepsie and Saugerties on the field and to Nyack in the disputed forfeit early in the season. Poughkeepsie, which leads the circuit with an 11-1 mark, can clinch the title by beating Nyack at Riverview Field on Wednesday. The Hoebows also have a game scheduled with the Jets.

Porky Viereira, the ex-basketball star from Quinnepiac College, started the contest with a booming triple to right center. He scored on a sacrifice fly by Dan Musco.

Maines drove in what proved to be the deciding run in the second when he singled to score Manager Norb Fahey from second base. The skipper had started the frame with a double.

The Jets tallied a marker in the third on a two out safety by Bill Howard and Dick Bishop's booming double. Maines wasn't in any trouble after that as he chalked up the win.

Lefty Bob walked one and struck out six. Loser Al Morgan was touched for seven hits while walking seven and sending four batters down on strikes.

U. S. Has Big Lead In Pan-American Games

By JERRY LISKA

Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—The third Pan-American Games competition today picked up two new sports, swimming and boxing, but that just meant a bigger stampede for gold medals by the USA's juggernaut forces.

After Sunday's third day of Pan-Am cavorting, this country had amassed 18 gold medals, 12 of them coming in track and field.

The track rout is destined to continue in Soldier Field tonight, with the USA favored in finals of the 200-meter dash, discus throw and 110-meter hurdles for men and the shot put for women.

Only preliminaries are involved in the opening swimming and boxing sessions. Uncle Sam's squads are expected to make a walkaway of the aquatic competition and win perhaps half of the 10 ring titles.

Invaders Stymied

The USA's fierce honing up for the 1960 Olympic Games has been awfully tough on the Pan-American invaders, who have taken only three gold medals to date, one each by Argentina, Cuba and Chile.

Sunday, the USA's Bill Dellinger won the 5,000 meter run, Tom Murphy took the 800 meter run, and Dave Edstrom captured the decathlon—all with record-smashing performances. In addition, Mrs. Earlene Brown of Los Angeles won the women's discus in record style, and Lucinda Williams of Nashville, Tenn., won the feminine 100 meter dash.

Tonight, the USA's gold medal grabbers are expected to be Lee Calhoun or Hayes Jones in the 110 meter hurdles; Ray Norton, adding the 200 meter sprint title to the 100 meter crown he won Saturday, and Al Oerter or Parry O'Brien in the discus.

The strapping Mrs. Brown should win the women's shot put with ease.

Other gold medal winners Sunday were Nelson Lincoln of Medford, Ore., who paced the U.S. to the team title in free pistol shooting, and Hal Goldsmith of New York city in the individual foil fencing.

Batting—Dick Stuart, Pirates—Stuart homered as a pinch hitter in the ninth inning of the second game, then doubled home two runs in the bottom of the tenth to give the Pirates a 7-6 triumph over Philadelphia. The Pirates also won the opener 2-1.

Pitching—Gerry Staley and Turk Lown, White Sox.—Staley pitched two scoreless relief innings in the first game and Lown hurled four runless innings in the second game as the White Sox swept a doubleheader from Cleveland 6-3 and 9-4.

Extended Weather Forecast Is Given

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Here are the extended weather forecasts for New York State, prepared by the U. S. Weather Bureau, for the period from 7 a. m. today to 7 p. m. Saturday:

Eastern New York—Warm and humid most of the week with temperatures averaging 3 to 5 degrees above normal. Showers and scattered thunder storms at the beginning, probably ending Tuesday night. Beginning again by Friday. Total rainfall will average near one inch over much of the area.

Western New York—A cooler, less humid period is likely although temperatures still may average a few degrees above normal. Cooler air moving in Tuesday with only minor day-to-day temperature changes thereafter. Scattered showers or thundershowers ending early Tuesday and occurring again about Thursday and Friday. Precipitation may average 1/2 to one inch with some locally heavier amounts.

Temperature normals—Normal temperatures over Upstate New York now range from overnight lows in the 50s, to afternoon highs in the 70s and low 80s.

Hold Two in Jail

evasive tactics, Mauro locked himself in the bathroom and the men fled.

Saugerties Police Officers John Washburn and M. Slattery responded to Mauro's call. Arrests on warrants followed investigation by Sgt. Harold Mills, acting Saugerties chief in the absence of Chief Arthur W. Richter on vacation.

Mauro told Saugerties police that Bray had been a roomer at his establishment from July 26 to Aug. 14 and left owing two weeks rent and took the key with him. Bray gave his address at that time as YMCA, Kingston.

The two were arrested at 1 p. m. Saturday and brought before Rea in Saugerties. Police records show that Bray last worked for Trahan Construction Company, Lake Katrine on August 25.

FIREMEN BATTLE FLAMES—Residents of a rooming house at 193 Clinton Avenue were routed from their home early Saturday when fire broke out in a second floor room. Fire officials listed the probable cause as a cigaret lighter which a roomer, Gordon Hall said he left on a bedstand in his room when he went to another room.

Luncheon Tickets Are Now Available

Tickets for the "Empire State Day" luncheon on September 12 are now available and the sale is open to the public.

They may be obtained at the office of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce which is serving as headquarters for the Hudson-Champlain Celebration activities.

The luncheon is one of the features of "Empire State Day," sponsored by the Kingston Committee for the Hudson-Champlain Celebration. Lt. Gov. Malcolm Wilson will be the principal speaker and Dr. George F. Chandler will receive special recognition as the first superintendent of state police. Mayor Edwin F. Radcliff will deliver the address of welcome. Other distinguished guests will include Congressman J. Ernest Wharton, Senators Ernest I. Hatfield and E. Ogden Bush, Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson, Lt. Col. Ralph O. Mealy and Deputy Commander of Stewart Field.

The early purchase of tickets is suggested to enable the committee to make adequate plans.

At 11 a. m. on "Empire State Day" a pageant will be staged in front of the County Court House on Wall Street. This is the exact hour when the first constitution of New York State was proclaimed from the same spot. Other events which led to the creation and establishment of our State Government here will be portrayed in costume.

At 2:30 in the afternoon a large parade will take place with many bands, floats and marching units participating. The parade will start in the vicinity of lower Broadway and disperse in the Dietz Memorial Stadium.

Cool Air in Mid Part of U. S. Puts End to Humidity

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A welcome flow of cool air moved into the central part of the country today, ending at least temporarily the season's longest spell of hot and humid weather.

The cool air was felt in areas from northern Texas northward into South Dakota and into the eastern half of Colorado. It was expected to spread into most of the mid Mississippi Valley eastward to the lower Great Lakes region during the day.

Violent storms and rain broke out during the weekend in the muggy weather belt. Rain splashed most sections from the Atlantic Coast across the plains into Colorado. Gusty winds, hail and heavy rain hit many areas Sunday and during the night. Lightning killed at least 10 persons over the weekend.

Sections of Texas were hammered by severe thunderstorms Sunday night. Winds up to 82 m.p.h. lashed the Dallas-Fort Worth area as the thunderstorms broke the 105-degree heat wave. More than two inches of rain fell at Detroit, Syracuse, N. Y., Savannah, Ga., and Tallahassee, Fla. A tornado ripped through Devol, in southwest Oklahoma, destroying five houses, the city post office and injuring one person.

Help for Farmers

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (AP)—Agriculture Minister W. J. Keough says the Newfoundland government spent $250,000 on various services for farmers during 1958. No other occupational group in Newfoundland receives as much assistance, he said.

The costume suit (dress and matching jacket) is a prime favorite this fall. The prettiest get luxurious fur collars as trim.

Lightning Kills 2; Other Mishaps Are Fatal to 15

Seventeen persons lost their lives in accidents during a storm-racked weekend in New York State including a woman who was killed Sunday by a bolt of lightning that struck a fruit-packing house in Germantown, and two Stone Ridge men, who died of injuries suffered in a highway accident on Saturday.

Mrs. Virginia Rolon, 44, was the victim of lightning. She had been sorting fruit on a metal tray when the bolt hit the building. Two other persons were knocked unconscious.

Frank Bush, 55, and Harvey Winchell, 70, both of Stone Ridge were killed when the car in which they were riding raced down an embankment and overturned off Route 213.

Hail stones dropped in some sections of the Buffalo area. In Syracuse Sunday night, two inches of rain fell in two and a half hours. Traffic was snarled, streets flooded and the roofs of two furniture houses collapsed under the weight of trapped water, according to The Associated Press. Firemen said damage in Syracuse would run into the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Ten of the accidental deaths occurred on the highways. Three persons were drowned and two others were victims of lightning.

Collision Injures

erating an unregistered motor vehicle and as an unlicensed operator. He was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Charles Demsky of the town of Plattekill and paid a fine of $10 on the unregistered vehicle count and $15 as an unlicensed operator.

Car Demolished

Sgt. E. E. Winkky said Morgan, operating a 1956 foreign-made car, parked the vehicle about 5 p. m. Sunday in front of the Lembo cold storage plant during a heavy rainstorm.

Another car, operated by Oliver, traveling east on Route 44-55, broke over the crest of a hill, saw the Morgan car parked on the shoulder of the west side of the highway and touched his brakes.

His car skidded, climbed a steep embankment, rolled over and crashed into the Morgan car and a utility pole.

Winkky said the Oliver car was completely demolished.

Police Investigate Poughkeepsie Fire

The city of Poughkeepsie had three false alarms late Sunday afternoon—all coming within 30 minutes of each other.

This paralleled Kingston's experience of last Thursday when three fire alarms were sounded within an hour during the early morning.

The first alarm came at 5:43 p. m. from an alarm box at Poughkeepsie High School. Four companies were dispatched to the scene, returning to station at 6:15 p. m.

The second alarm was received at 5:49 p. m. from Academy and Livingston streets. Five companies were dispatched, returning at 6:03 p. m.

The third call came at 6:10 p. m. when five companies were sent to 1 Vassar Street, an apartment building owned by Louis Jaeger. Newspapers had been wadded up and set afire under a stairway on the first floor of the three-story building, it was reported.

Poughkeepsie police are investigating.

H-C Official Flags Are Now Available

At the request of the Kingston committee for the Hudson-Champlain celebration official celebration flags are available from R. G. Johnston, 36 Ferry Street.

The committee has also authorized Mr. Johnston to solicit decorating orders for "Empire State Day," September 12. He has agreed to leave the decorations up until after the visit of Crown Princess Beatrix on September 18, without any additional charge. He has obtained a supply of the "Year of History" insignia to include in the decorations.

The committee suggests that buildings along the line of the parade decorate for "Empire State Day."
